Elements of time.
the past,
the present,
the future,
and the timeless.
A simple flame,
recalls the fires
of ancient man.
Yet it is also reminiscent of sunsets occuring again and again.

A union of past and future
long forgotten crystals of ice emerge anew in abstract design captured by photograph for eternity
a moment to be repeated
though never duplicated and a fading sun, and new fallen snow are captured as well.

water, transforms scenery to reflect a mood
of sleepy dusk or rippling falls of silent reflection or raging seas.

The passage of time
leaves unaltered
the endless terrain
each rock, bush, and hillside a tribute to those who pass there today, tomorrow, yesterday forever.

Antique doors open, each inch widening to reveal the vegetation within a closer look discloses the wonder of creation,
and the bits of mosaic contributing to the whole.

Sitting alone,
in a moment soon to be gone
The hourglass reflects a timeless sunlight
and an image of the future contained in today's child while yesterday's children gaze upon all time

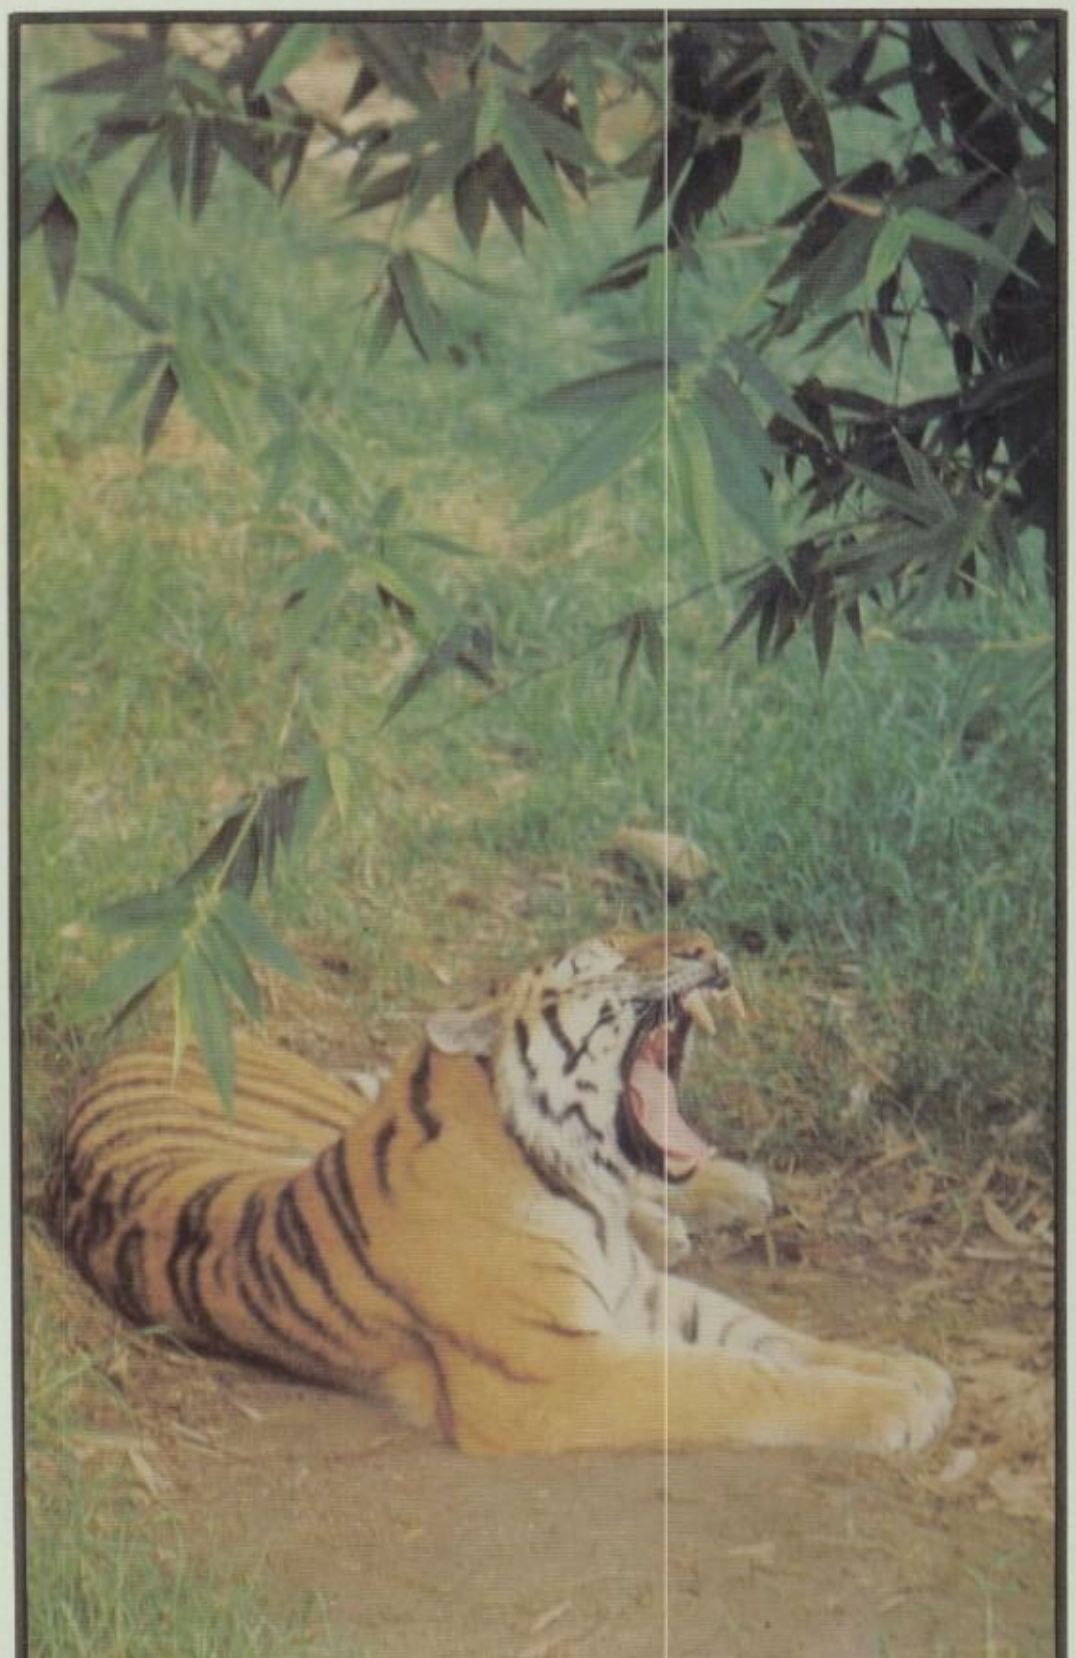
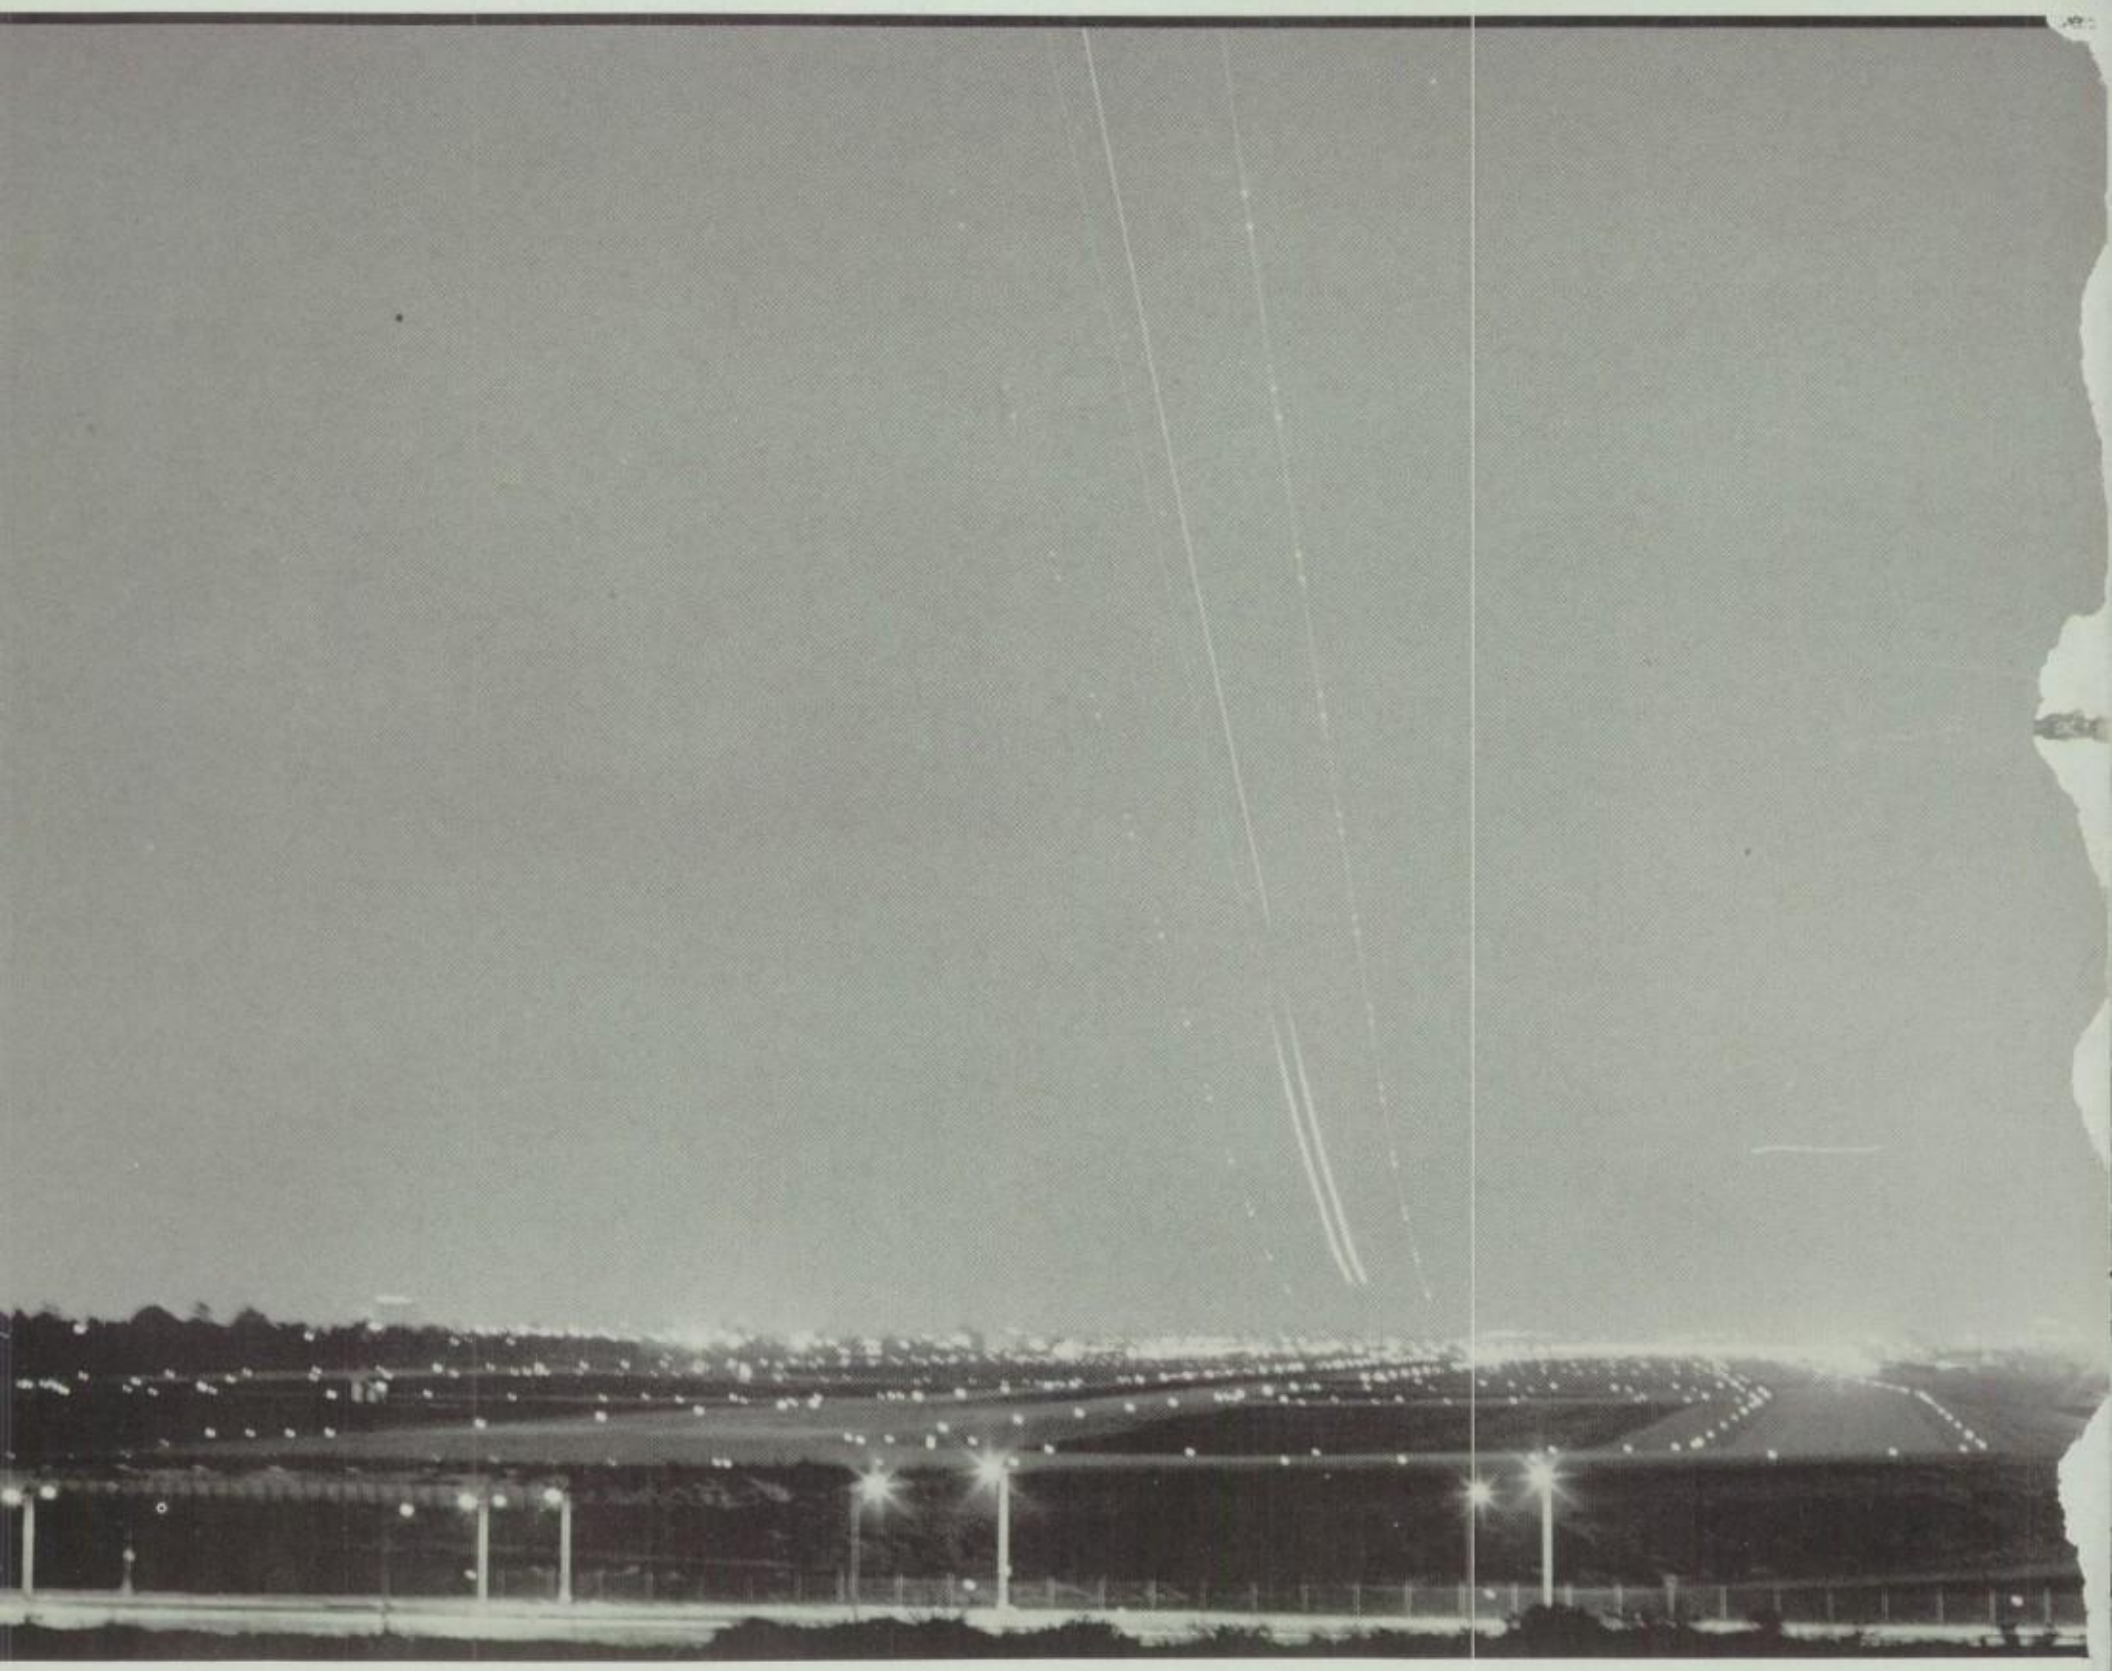
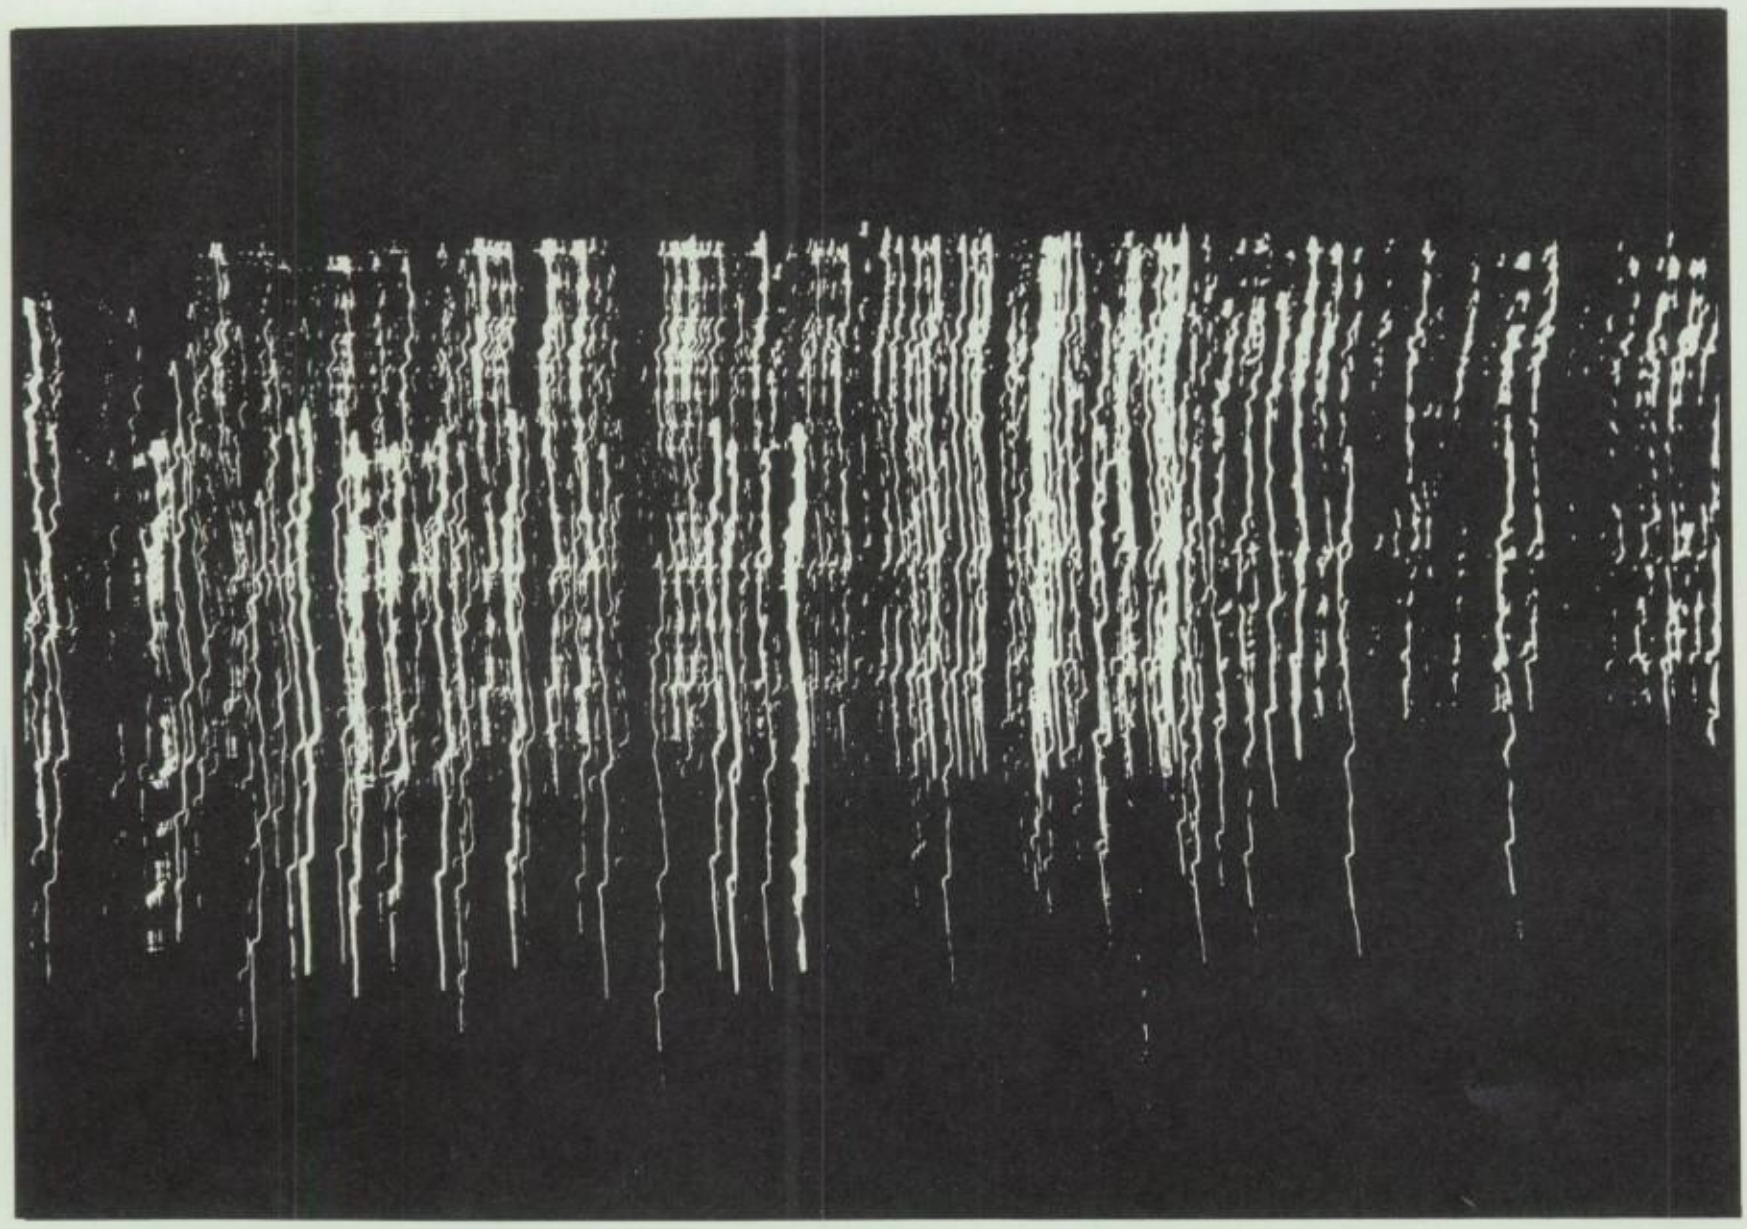
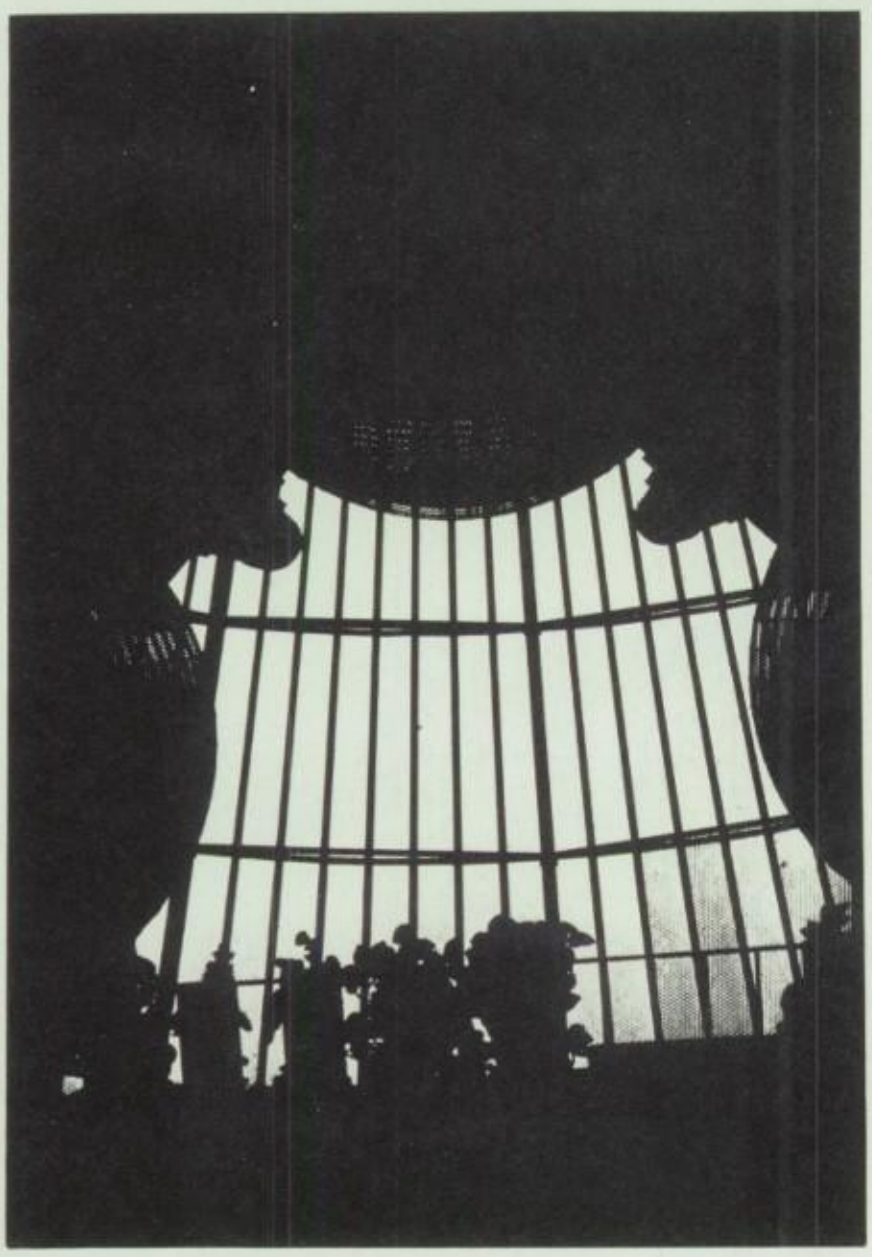
The miracle of creation radiates from life, massive and minute, in all forms, shapes, and sizes









The future
revealed today.
A new way of oberving yesterday's creations.
reinvention
of old concepts,
or discovery of new ones.
but the timeless continues as the sun
in a sky dark is eternal.

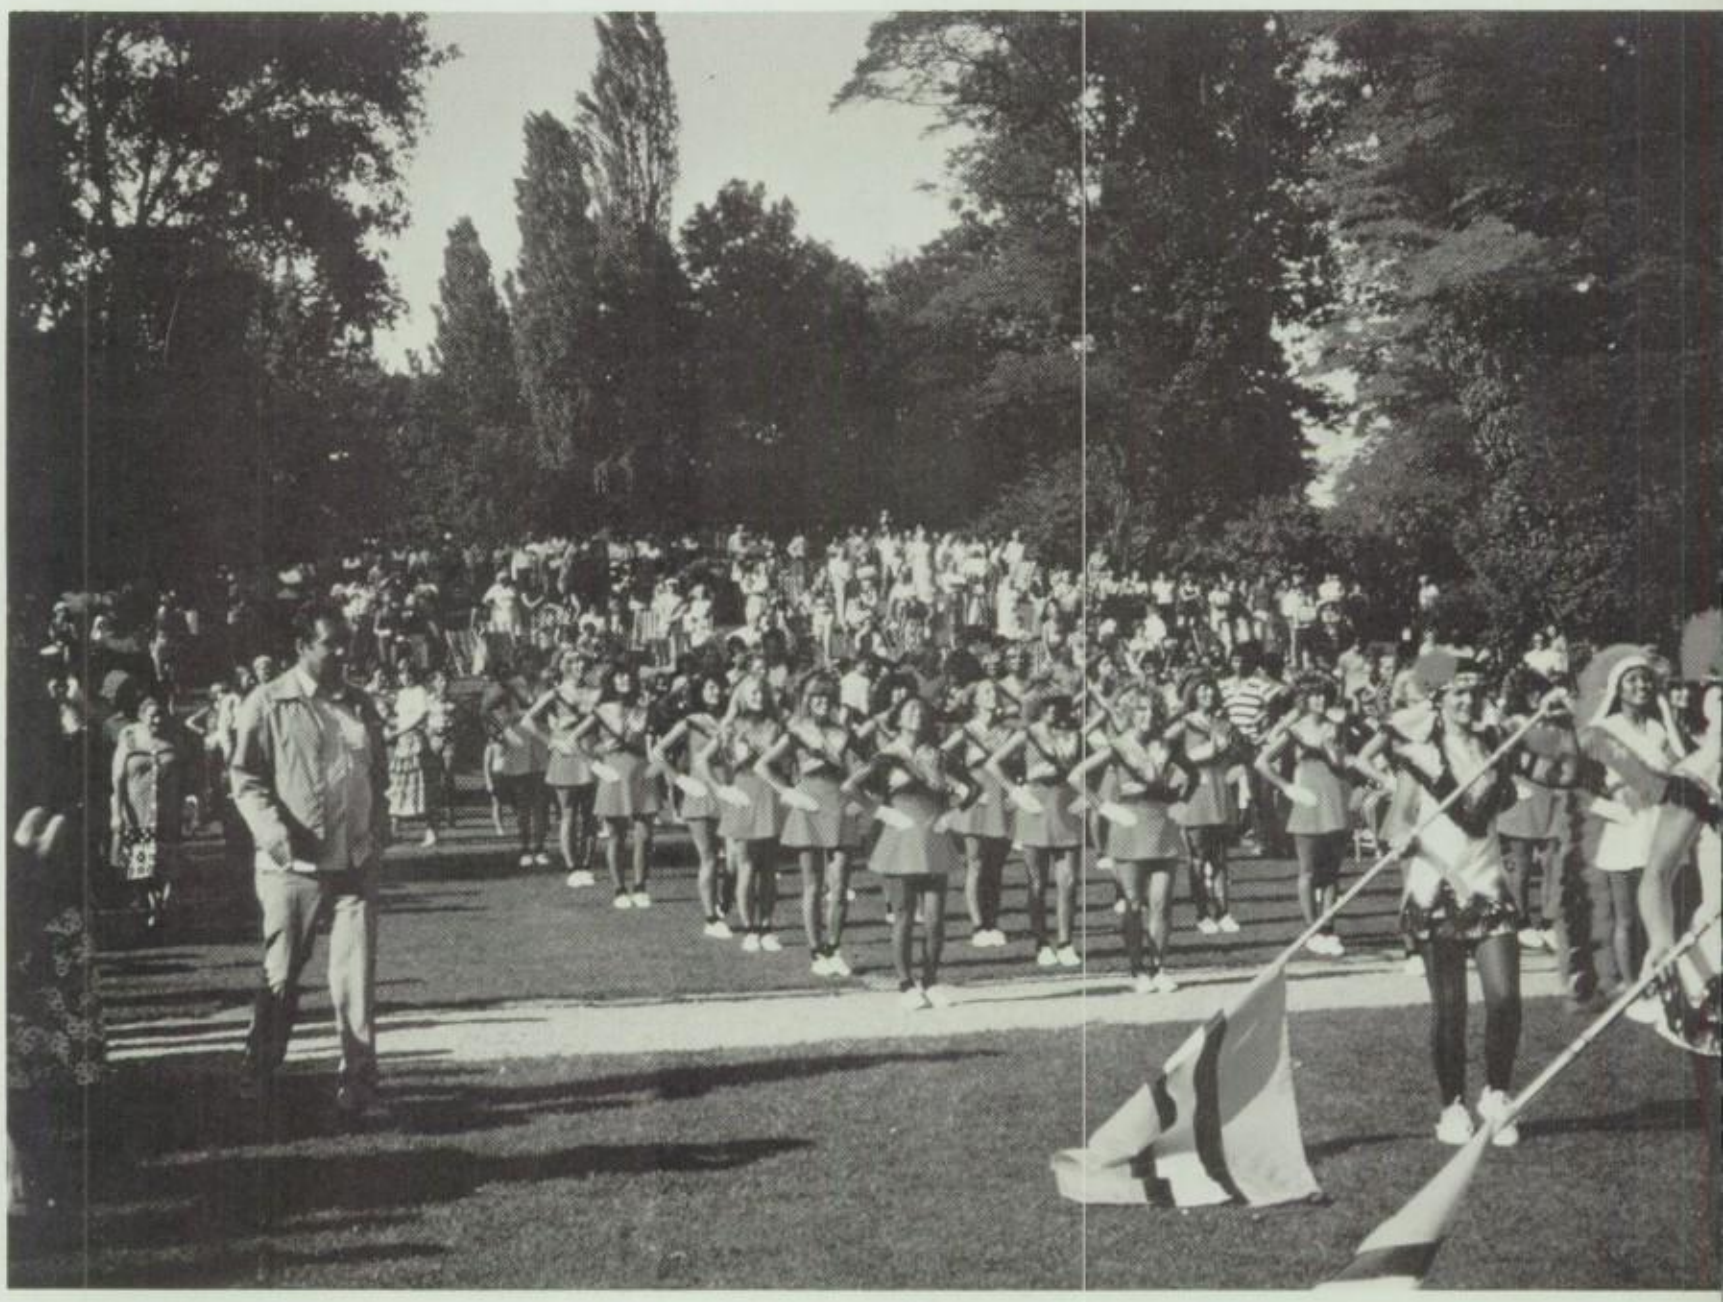
"On behalf of the City of Geneva, it is our great pleasure to honor and to invite the West High Band to attend the 'Fetes of Geneve' 1979 which will take place in our city from August 10 to 13 . . ." These words incited the quest to raise $171, 600.00, which ultimately enabled the West High Band and Drill Team to perform live in Switzerland.

Early on the morning of July 30th, 152 expectant students gathered on the West High campus in anticipation of the 13-hour flight which would take them first to New York, then on to Zurich, Switzerland. The 17 day excursion had begun. While enroute to the 'Fetes of Geneve' the Band and Drill Team traveled through several European cities, performing in parades along the way. One incident Ronald Large, the band director, remembers is a parade from Montana to Evans and back to Montana again. During the trek, the performers picked up quite an audience. And by the end of the parade, they were being followed by 6,000 spectators. The famous Gruyere Cheese Factory, the woodcarving museum at Buienz, and Chillon Castle, one of the best preserved 16 Centrury mederal castles in all of Europe, provided special points of interest.

Day eleven brought with it the beginning of the 'Fetes of Geneve.' At the festival, the West Band and Drill Team, which had been singled out to be ambassadors from the United States to Geneva, were one of several groups which had performed. Many countries were represented in concert, including small boys on roller skates from France, and dancers from Rumania. Japan got into the act as well.

West concluded the program at the final concert, a sit down event for which the audience of 4,000 had paid. As the curtain dropped, rhythmic clapping in unison began.



TOP-Encouraged by the enthusiastic crowd the Drill Team performed with a high standard of quality, which made them the ambassadors to Geneva. TOP CENTER-This travel bag represents all the memories experienced in the three week trip by the Geneva Conference participants. TOP FAR RIGHT-A typical Swiss street complete with famous snow capped mountains, was frequently seen by Band and Drill Team members along their trip. RIGHT-The Band and Drill Team would like to commend their Supervisors Ronald Large and Marilyn Commeau for their outstanding leadership.

. . . once in a lifetime

"They want you again!" shouted the tour guide. West obliged but that was not the end. The rhythmic applause began again. When it was finally over, the band had played an unprecidented FOUR encores.

All of those who went, returned with countless memories, photos and souveniers. Jane Pernu especially remembers after one concert a German girl indicating to them that she was a majorette too. Deena Anders handed her a baton, and the girls shared their routines. "We communicated with sign language, some French, and some English" said Jane.

Mark Roulette, trumpetor, will always remember the enthusiastic reception his Dixieland ensemble received at the final concert. "They really got into it. The crowd was so big, in the thousands, that it was like playing in the Forum."

Drum major Tim Ducar expressed what many who went felt when he said, "It was a fantastic experience."

Of course the trip did have its, if not enjoyable, at least interesting moments. The group slept 40 to a room in a bomb shelter, were allowed to drink only goat's milk, carbonated water, and coke, and got hit over the head with plastic hammers while having confetti thrown in their face.

Still the benefits of the trip far out-weighed any bad points, and everyone had at least a few good things to say about the trip. The time together also gave the Band and Drill Team a chance to get closer; which they did.

They also spectacularly represented West High, Torrance, and the entire United States in Geneva.

playing with fire

"F-I-R-E-dash-U-P, fire-up" was the cheer running through the heads of the Pep Squad on the morning of West's opening football game. Using this as their theme they planned the events for the day.

First on the agenda was the decorating of the school. When the players arrived they were greeted with colorful signs and decorations. "The purpose for this", says Pep Squad member Ginny Pfaff, "is to get the guys thinking about the game long before it starts, but more important than that, to let them know their school is behind them."

Later in the day the student body was treated to a pep rally. Following a comical skit starring Kevin Lenahan, Cilda Shaur, and members of the student council, the Pep Squad continued with its theme of fire-up. They cheered the audience on and were rewarded with enthusiasm when they threw fire stix into the crowd. When the rally came to a close, students returned to their classes "hyped-up" for the evenings game.

When the Pep Squad entered the stadium on a fire truck yelling "fire-up" the theme was complete. The players ran onto the field to the roar of the engines' siren where they were greeted by the Pep Squad and a crowd of devoted fans. Throughout the game spirit was kept alive with their performance.

It takes a special kind of person to take on this job, one who is optomistic and energetic. West's Pep Squad is composed of these type of people. West, when you're hot, you're hot!

from a puzzle to a play

A new approach was employed in the selection of the drama departments fall play. Instead of the usual pre-chosen play, students, under the supervision of Ron Scarlata, helped with the difficult task of selecting a piece. Their final decision was to plant their roots in the "Bad Seed".

Next, the work began on a project that would culminate into an evening's entertainment presented in the West High Pavilion.

First came the try-outs, which brought together some of West's most talented students. "It was tough competition", commented Mary Howe. Finally, after a week of try-outs, the cast was chosen. This, however, was just the first step.

Following that week, the cast of eleven was given a demanding schedule of continuous daily rehersals. Russ Kravetz was chosen student director, Mr. Scarlata's reliable assistant.

Not only the cast, but the crew and stage technology class had a great deal expected of them. The stage crew, managed by Jodi Alhadeff was seen by passers-by in the stage tech area on school days and weekends busily assemblying the scenery which decorated the stage. In addition to the stage crew was the publicity crew, run by Kristy Avrien, the make-up crew, led by Adrian Fraley, the sound a lighting crew directed by Mr. Steve Trampe, and the props committee led by Peggy Stephan, all of which were important assets in the production of the play.

A play which began as a broken-up jigsaw puzzle, slowly became a single picture enjoyed by all, thanks to the time and effort of these unseen, valuable people!

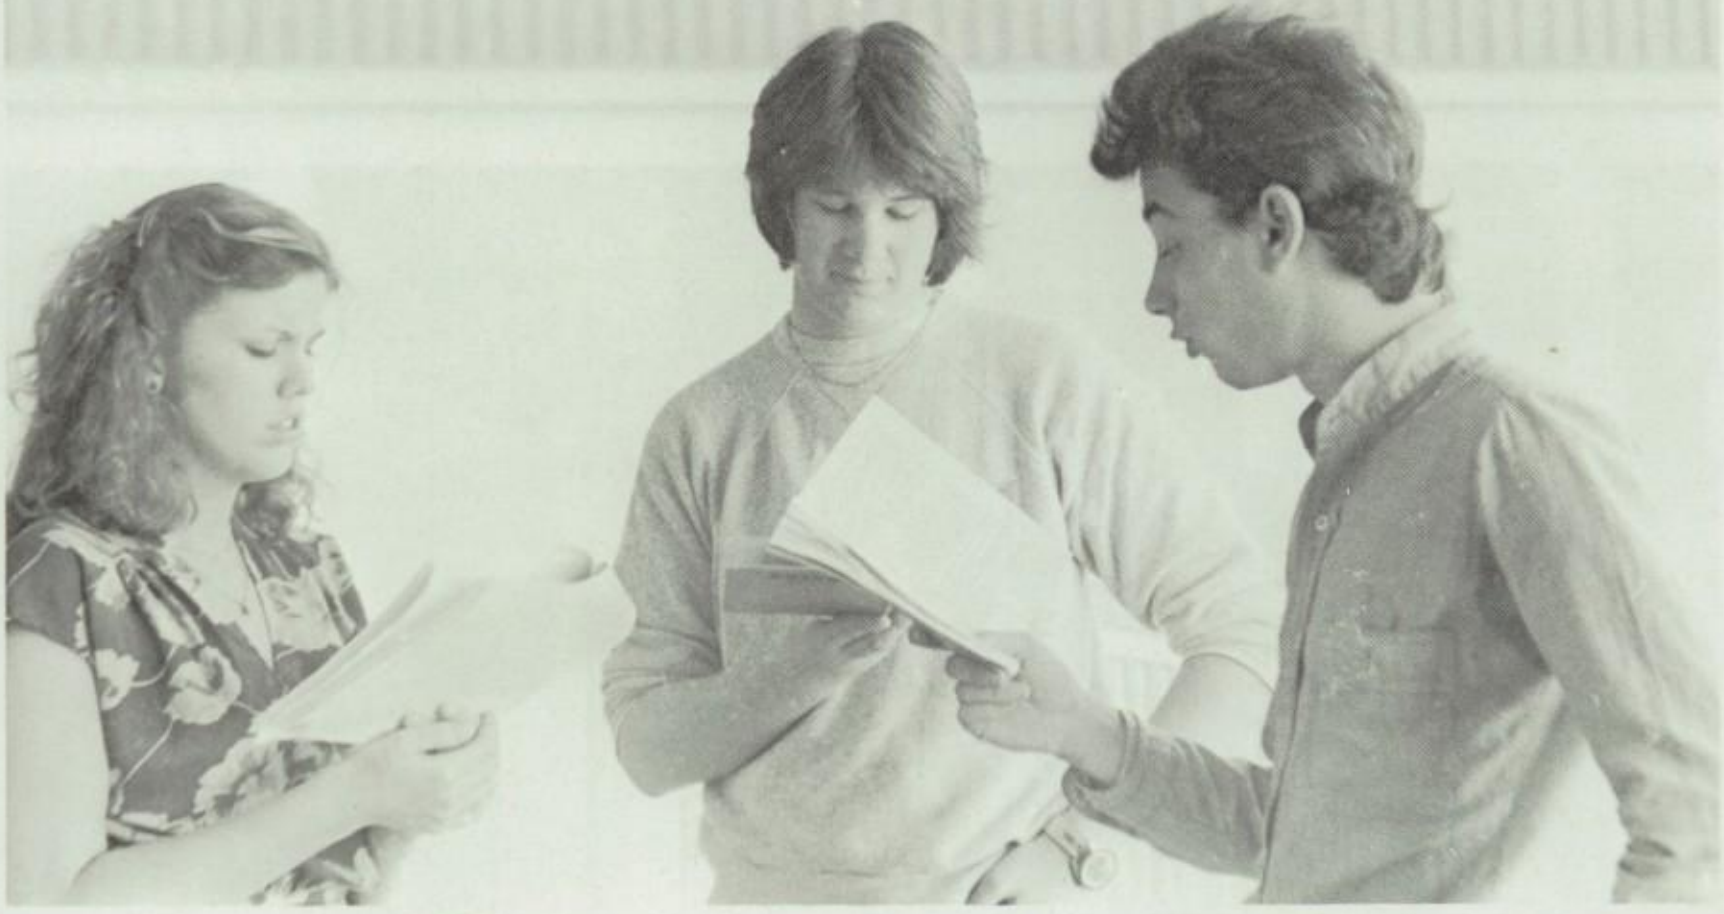
Seed!



"the bad seed blossoms"

Comedies, musicals, serious dramas, and short one-act plays are just some of the offerings presented to West in the past. This year though, a special treat was presented in the form of a murder mystery-The Bad Seed.

Mary Howe gave an exceptional performance as Rhoda Penmark, a 10-year old girl, who without remorse causes the deaths of several people around her. These include her mother (Rosemaree Swade) and the janitor Leroy (vividly brought to life by Bob Ingraham). Amy Hughes received the laughs flitting in and out of the scenes as eccentric Mrs. Breedlove.

The play, performed on November 28th, 29th and 30th showed a professional quality unusual in a high school presentation, One member of the audience was heard to say, "The actors were so good that I forgot that it was my friends who were up there."

fads are back!

New fads emerged, and old fads lived on throughout the year of 1979-1980. Rollerskating continued to be a popular form of exercise, and backpacks remained a convenient method of carrying books. The bike racks again filled with strand cruisers and, as always, people were either getting new cars or fixing up their old ones.

Punk rock and New Wave were going strong as the year began. Devo, The Yacht's, Blondie, and Tom Petty are only a few examples. Led Zeppelin fans flocked to the stores to buy their most recent album. But, The Knack made the summer of 79 memorable with their single "My Sharona."

One of the bigger stars to appear this year was Mr. Bill. The miniature clay man, featured on "Saturday Night Live", created a following of West High students who collected items ranging from Mr. Bill T-shirts to Mr. Bill buttons. His famous slogan, Oh-Nooooo, was often heard on the West High campus.

All one needed to do was pick up a magazine to discover what else was going on. This year Charlie added another angel, Tiffany Wells, (model Shelly Hack). Miss Piggy was an overnight success in "The Muppet Movie". "Rocky II" and "Apocalypse Now" were also popular.

"tender" livens midnight magic

As the 70's rolled into the 80's, West added a new social event to its calendar—"The Winter Semi-Formal". Sponsored by the ASB, this dance turned out to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The popularity of the dance was in part due to its being so near Valentine's Day. Couples were in the mood for just such an event.

The ASB chose "Midnight Magic" as the theme, which was successfully carried out, as couples danced amidst a background of stars to the music of "Tender". ASB Secretary of Activities John Berryman, chief coordinator of the dance, commented that he'd like to see "The Winter Semi-Formal" become an annual event.

Everyone appeared to have a wonderful time, and as they left the gym their faces suggested that the feeling of "Midnight Magic" would stay with them for a long time.

the games people play

The 79-80 year started off with a barrage of activities. From the beginning of September students had something to relieve the boredom of Friday lunchtimes. Secretary of Activities, John Berryman, thought up and arranged the unique activities including burping, jello eating and toilet paper wrapping contests. These contests determined who could burp loudest, eat jello with no hands fastest and wrap toilet paper quickest.

West had a most memorable Halloween this year with a large turnout of costumed students. Everyone was represented from Punk Rockers to Geisha girls, plus the usual vampires and monsters.

Instead of the usual costume contest, West decided to do something a little different. Student Council held a pumpkin carving contest in which each class submitted a carved pumpkin. It was a close contest with the top contenders being the sophomores vegetable pumpkin and the seniors party pumpkin. After the run off between the two classes, the seniors were victorious.

everybody's talking about. . . pop music

Three styles of music, jazz, classical, and percussion, were united in the annual Pops Concert on January 31. Under the direction of Jim Banim, the individual musical groups practiced over two months for this event, making it a great success.

The evening began with a performance by the Wind Ensemble, playing such selections as "Nutmeggers", and fantastic highlights from the hit motion picture, "Superman". The audience was thrilled by the superb solo acts of trumpeter, Mark Roulette, and trombonist, Bob Faulkner, who performed with the Wind Ensemble.

Following a short intermission, the Concert Band appeared on stage and got the audience going with their, "Mighty Mite March"! Many individual talents were revealed as the large group played a great variety of music.

Rumbling, rythmic, sounds began echoing throughout the room as the famous Percussion Ensemble marched boldly through the east door of the Pavilion and onto the stage. Drums, cymbols, and mallets in hand, they performed with the finess and talent of true experts. This award-winning group entertained the audience tremendously and left them wanting more.

The beat was up and the spirit high as the Stage Band provided the climax for the evening. This select group of expert musicians received the only encore of the night, playing "American Bandstand". Exciting, quick-moving jazz music was the name of the game!

Living up to it's reputation, the Pops Concert provided an evening full of wonderful entertainment, due to the numerous talents of West High musicians.

spirit flies at west high

One of the more colorful events held each year at West is Spirit Day. Pep Squad, Drill Team, Majorettes, and Band members from all different areas arrived at the crack of dawn for competition.

In preparation for this competition many hours of hard work and dedication were put in by all members of each squad. The pay off was the announcement of the coveted first and second place.

The competitors were dressed in unusual styles and costumes. Along with costumes came an abundance of make-up. Hair was dippety doed and faces were over done so that they would show up. Photographers were snapping pictures left and right much to the dissatisfaction of the girls who were all made up.

West High performed routines which lead to the winning of second place by both Varsity and J.V., Drill Team won second and fourth place, the majorettes took second, and tall flags won fifth. Over all, the whole day was a huge success.

west dresses best

Jeans! Jeans! Jeans! The abundance of designer jeans was one of the most noticable trends at West this year. They ranged from Sassoon to Calvin Klein to Gloria Vanderbilt—in every color of the rainbow with an assortment of textures to match. Plush velours, oversize sweaters, blouses laced with metallic threads, and quilted jackets also made campus style. For the high fashion set, blazers, narrowed skirts, and belted dresses were expensive but elegant.

1980 also brought with it a wide selection of girls shoes. New styles included clogs with spiked heels, all types of sandals and, as always, tennis shoes. The brand names most often seen included Candies, Bass, Cherokees, and Famolares.

For guys, the more traditional Levis and T-shirts out-numbered dressy Brittania, OP, and Angels Flight coordinates. Chenille and velour shirts were popular. And, due to the energy crisis, sweaters showed up on more guys than ever. Other looks included: LaCoste shirts, pleated pants, and a variety of styles from the makers of Left Bank and Kennington.

With the return of short boots, flannel shirts, and good ole Levis blue jeans, both sexes slid into the comfortable style of western wear.

presenting . . . the famous navy glee club

This year the West High student body and faculty were treated to a choral concert presented by the highly acclaimed Naval Academy Glee Club. Each year the academy visits several high schools throughout the United States. This year West High had the privilege of being among its choices.

The Glee Club, under the direction of John B. Talley, is comprised of 70 men. Within it are several small singing groups: a barbershop quartet, a 1950's rock and roll group, and a folk trio. The club tries to appeal to a wide range of audiences, and include in their repertoire: sea chanteys, folk songs, classical music, and popular tunes.

Their performance at West began with the traditional "Anchors Away Medley", and some of their favorite sea chanteys. The barbershop quartet performed in costume and included comical routines during the song. The folk trio sang popular songs which were enjoyed by all. The highlight of the concert was the 1950's rock group. They looked like Sha Na Na and sang the old favorite, "Duke of Earl."

The audience was extremely enthusiastic and expressed their appreciation by giving the club a standing ovation.

lines: the dilemma of scheduling

"If I switch my fifth period French to third period Drivers Ed., we can have P.E. together." This was the type of conversation overheard between friends as they waited in the long lines leading into the library on January 15, 1980, scheduling day.

Upon entering the library, students found themselves entangled in a mass confusion of lines as they attempted to schedule their classes for the new semester. There were lines to enter, lines to get class cards, lines to see counselors, and lines to check out. Those who were fortunate enough to be in the first scheduling groups had little trouble getting the classes they wanted; but as the hours passed, students found it increasingly difficult to obtain their courses.

As the semester ended, and students were able to change classes a general feeling of relief prevailed. However, the chore of scheduling instilled the opposite attitude. Students once again found themselves confused and in the dilemma of having to choose only from the classes which fit into their schedule.

One of the most exciting, challenging, and fulfilling experiences a student can have, is the opportunity to go to another country as an exchange student. There is no better way to learn about a country than by living there, surrounded by its culture and its people. Often being an exchange student is referred to as an "experience". One experiences a new place, new people, and a whole new way of life. It requires a person who likes people, is curious, and is willing to try new things to make the experience a success.

This year there were two AFS students who attended West High—Mario Solano from Costa Rica, and Lisa Gebbler, a domestic exchange student, from Chagrin Falls, Ohio. Mario, a member of the Exchange Club and the Fishing Club, is living with the Nuchols family and his two host brothers, John and Steve, attend West. "I've had to adapt to a different family, learn a different language, and a different type of life", commented Mario.

Lisa, our domestic exchange student found West High to be a new experience. She came from a very small village in Ohio where there were only five hundred students in her school. West is a big change for her. "Every time I turn the corner I see a new face." Lisa is involved in drama and the Exchange Club. She enjoys her classes and has met many new friends.

drama and the Exchange Club. She enjoys her classes and has met many new friends.

Dwight Kieswetter, who graduated from West last year, went to Argentina through AFS over the summer. He had a fantastic time there and wished he could have stayed longer. While in South America, Dwight attended school. He remarked "The students there treated me like a rock star. They wanted to touch my hair and clothes, and they even asked for my autograph!" His class went on a trip throughout Argentina so Dwight got to do a lot of traveling. His family there spoke very little English, so Dwight was forced to use his two years of Spanish, and now he is fluent in the language!

Dean Hanaoka and Sara Lopez are also two returnee exchange students. They went on the Sister City program to Kashiwa Japan last summer and both had wonderful experiences. During their stay they went to a parade and several parties, visited schools, and traveled outside of the city. "The city of Kashiwa was filled with beautiful sights and the most hospitable people I've ever met. This trip has provided me with the greatest experience of my life and it will be a lasting memory", remembers Dean.

Organizations like AFS and the Torrance Sister City Association provide students who are interested in other places and cultures with the opportunity to experience these things. Their goal is to "promote better world understanding and friendship", and students like Mario, Lisa, Dwight, Dean, and Sara have helped to do just that!

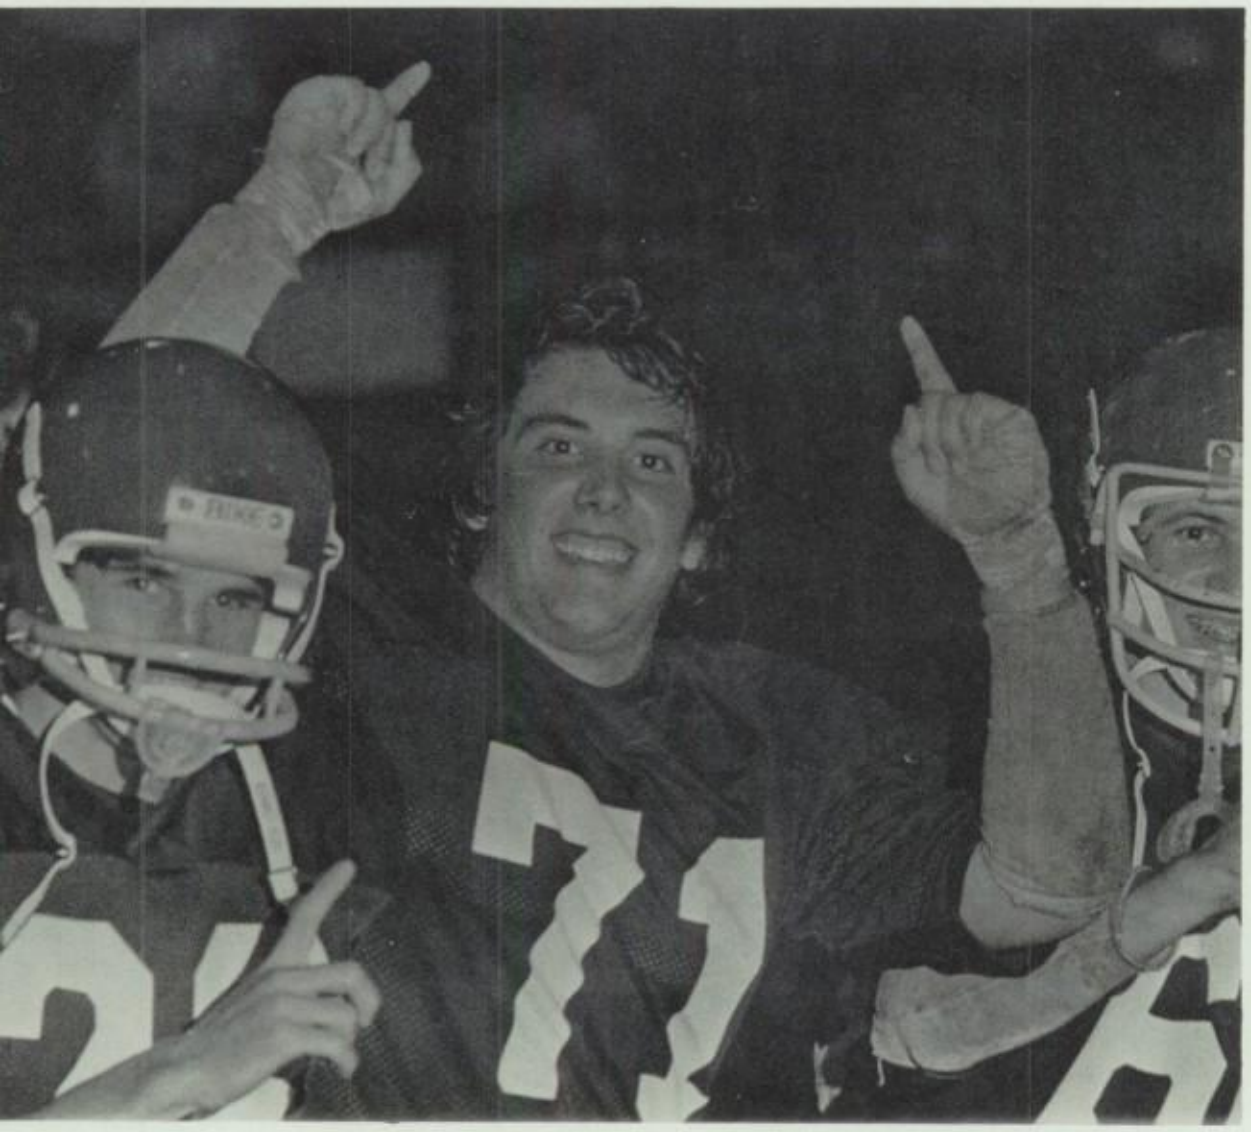
away season



The inability to score on yardage gained was the primary reason that the Varsity football squad, for the first time in eight years, was unable to see CIF competition. They finished their dissapointing season with a 4-5-1 record.

Quarterback Fred Czarske, whose consistent performances tallied a final record of 72 completions for 119 attempts, gaining 973 yards, said "untimely errors in scoring position caused West's defeats."

The opening game against Long Beach Poly showed that West would have its problems this year. In the second quarter, injury struck West's defense squad, as lineback Mark Moore was unleased upon by two opposing blockers, causing him to loose two vertabrae. However, tragedy really struck when Czarske suffered a shoulder injury, and was then forced to sit out the next two games.

Upon Czarske's return, West was faced with their toughest opponent of the season, Temple City. The Rams, having a 23 game winning streak, were the assured favorites. But West operated like a well oiled machine, and defeated them 21-14.

Head Coach, Fred Peterson, received an honor that only his players were capable of bestoying him, his 100th career victory. It came against the North High Saxons-somehow appropriately.

"I must confess, I had that 100 in the back of my mind", said Peterson, whose tearful rejoicing after the game told the story completely.

Though West failed to make the play-offs, their outstanding talent didn't go unnoticed. Six Varsity players made All-Bay-League first team: Jeff Tuccinardi, Tony Bloomfield, Matt Provost, Fred Czarske, Jim Dralle, and Mike Torres, all received this high, prestigious honor.

frosh-soph football creates league commotion

Special teams and an outstanding quarterback were the main ingredients to the Sophomore football team that ended an up and down season with a 6-3 record.

Quarterback Randy Fayette was a dominating figure in the sophomore backfield as he passed 57 times for 311 yards.

Fayette was given the helm of the Varsity Squad when Quarterback Fred Czarske was injured in the opener against Long Beach Poly. But Fayette rose to occasion, leading them to a 17-14 victory over Muir.

Special teams, lead by outstanding players Ed Kleinholtz and Kim Nakamura, didn't allow a single point and restricted punt returners and kickoff returns to an average of 20 yards per attempt.

The Sophomore squad, under the expertice of Coach Pat Schmidt, were a team to be reckoned with this season, and it is hoped that all players will return.

"Defensive Domination" was the key element for the Freshmen football team who concluded with a unbeaten 7-0 season, never showing any signs of weakness.

Defensive linemen Mark Matthews, who sacked the Newberry Park's Quarterback in the first game for 27 yards on their very first possession, and Ron Czarske, who averaged 5 tackles and 5 assists per game, helped to render the oppostions running attack virtually non-existant. The hard-hitting defensive line gave up only 31 points all year.

Offensively, the freshmen scored a total of 123 points this season, much attributed to the fine quarterbacking of Steve Center. Center passed for an average of 58 yards a game, and carried the ball 44 times for 169 yards rushing.

Running back John Combis was responsible for most of the points that were scored by achieving 5 touchdowns on the year, and since he was also the Freshman kicker, he was able to score 12 extra points as well.

Under the guidance of Freshman Coach Tim Scully, these fine young athletes showed their true talents and abilities. We hope to see more of them in the future.

boys cross-country ends

The boys Cross Country team started the season off with a tough loss against Palos Verdes, the defending CIF champions, but went on to win a few meets. Leading the Varsity team were, Senior Robert Aube, with a best time of 15:16, and Junior Paul Krumpe, who, against Palos Verdes, passed by six opposing team members in the last three-hundred yards to take a third place.

Top Sophomore, Dennis Wenzel took a second place against Palos Verdes, with Robert Gralnik and Mike Caruana backing up Wenzel. The freshmen team, consisting of sixty runners, was the largest ever at West. Greg Guiry, a promising Freshmen runner, led the Freshmen team to many victories and hard fought losses.

Coach, Bob Wilson, said of the Varsity team "With only one Senior on the team, they will be tougher season on right foot

at the end of the year."

Sophomore and Freshmen coach, Jerry Ripperger, said, "We have a lot of talent this year, with a very young potential team."

The team then went up against Mira Costa, and was again defeated, although they gave a much improved showing. Rolling Hills was their next challenge, and unfortunately they were defeated once again. The team finished off the season on the right foot, with a big win over the South High Spartans.

girls x-country starts slow; finishes fast

"We had all of our tough meets at the beginning of the season."

This statement by Coach Marge Fulton summarizes the girls Cross Country season, as they went undefeated after opening losses to tough opponents.

In their first meet, Varsity was crushed by the defending CIF champions Palos Verdes, 15 - 50, but went on to win the rest of their meets to finish with a 5 - 1 record.

Senior Lupe Sanchez led the Varsity team with a best time of 11:56. She was supported by Tracey Waterman and Sheryl Nelson.

The JV girls lost their first two meets, but were inspired by the Varsity team and went on to win the rest of their meets and finish with a 4 - 2 record.

The meets were run on a two mile course consisting of hills, sandy beaches, and many back streets. Hard work and strict training by coaches Wilson, Williams, and Ripperger made the team what it was.

tennis swings into action

The Varsity tennis team was dropped into the lowest league, Pioneer, as they began the season with only two returning Varsity players. Playing teams of higher leagues, the girls felt the pressure as they were defeated in five out of six of their practice matches.

As the season progressed, however, the team reversed themselves, easily beating all their opponents except Leuzinger. In their sixth match of the season, with a strong 4-0 record behind them, the Warriors lost to the Olympians by a close score of 7-11.

One advantage that the girls had this year was the presence of a new and enthusiastic coach, Cherise Dadian.

"We had a well balanced team after numbers one, two, and three; everyone was fairly equal." she stated. Doubles partners Nancy Delperdang and Sandy Egleston; Nancy lida and Traci Ozzimo; and Lee Krakover and Linda Collins played well together.

Captain Elaine Sidbeck led the singles players followed by Carol Johnston, number two and Julie Nash, number three.

League record for the Varsity team was 8-2.

Junior Varsity had an undefeated season, 10-0. Peggy crook, Becky Oliver, and Cathy Radtke were valuable members.

Secret Sisters, yellow team shirts imprinted with 'WEST TENNIS' and Coach Dadian's bright smile added a touch of uniqueness to the long season.

girls volleyball struggles in higher league

With only three returning players, and the pressure of the Bay league, Girls Varsity Volleyball was in for a fair season.

They were defeated in their first league match by Santa Monica, 10-15, 5-15 in a losing effort to prove themselves in a higher league.

One deterrant they faced was the frequent illnesses and injuries suffered by the girls.

"Sometimes I would only have six players to work with." commented coach Dave Westburg.

Veteran players Paula Weishoff, Mendy Porterfield and Becky Janisch helped their teammates pull through with a 4-7 league record; and a 9-9 record overall.

Coach Howard Szilagyi's Junior Varsity team had a good season with a 5-6 league record and 8-6 overall.

west strives for perfection

The Varsity Basketball team started their season with big hopes and proceeded to play good basketball, but couldn't seem to put it all together until league time. Their first game was against an excellent Santa Monica team and the Warriors lost a hard fought contest, but played exceptional basketball. West kept improving, and won their next four games handily against Beverly Hills, North High, Redondo, and a close game against Centennial, to emerge as a league contender.

John Neu was outstanding this season with an average of 32 points per game. In their game against Centennial, John Neu broke his own record by achieving 48 points in one game. Juniors, John Fearon and Chris Comeaux have rapidly improved their basketball qualities for the Varsity team.

Coach Sutherland quoted, "I feel the team will continue to progress and battle for the league championship and a play-off birth."

The JV team, consisting mainly of Sophomores, strives for improvement and perfection. Sophomores, Roy Murphy and Eric Moeller have both averaged more than 10 points per game for the JV team.

sophomores, freshmen build toward future

The Sophomore team didn't do as well as Coach Neu and others expected in their second year of competition in the Ocean League. They confronted such tough teams as Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, North High, and Centennial, only to lose by disappointing margins. At the end of seven games their record wasn't up to that which had been expected, but they continued to strive towards being a better team.

Sophomores Robert Miller and Eric Lavik both led the team in scoring, with an average of 10 to 15 points per game. Phil Peffer and Tom Yi improved greatly as the season progressed.

Coach Bill Neu said, "The team has gotten better after their series of losses, but they still seem to be having their ups and downs."

The Freshman lost their opening league game to Santa Monica, but played very tough basketball.

The team had alot of individual strength but had a hard time functioning as a whole. It wasn't until the season was in full swing that they had gotten everything together.

Leading the Freshman team in scoring were Steve Center, Jim O'Bryan, and Todd Nygren who all averaged from 6 to 10 points per game.

With a new coach for the Freshmen team, Coach Hunter, the team hoped to rebound from a disappointing start before the season was over.

girls soccer tastes victory

Under the direction of rookie coach and former West high soccer star Kurt Stierle, The Girls Varsity Soccer team had a slight advantage over last season's team.

In their first test of team play, the Warriors beat Miraleste High in the First Annual Christmas Tournament at South High, where they took fourth place. In their opening league game, the girls beat Torrance High by a score of 2 to 1.

"This year the league is very competitive." said Coach Steirle, regarding the Bay League. "Any team can beat any other team on a given day."

Heidi Stierle played strong defense while Patty O'Neil led the offense. At center halfback, Mary Ann Stubbins was the backbone of the team. Sophomore goalie Linda Collins protected the goal well, saving many close games.

At press time, the Junior Varsity team was undefeated, having won all their games by at least a three point margin.

Annette Fernandez, Mary Bowler, and Sara Lopez worked the ball well together along with the rest of the team.

wrestler's hopes pinned

With only five returning varsity players, the Varsity Wrestling squad was a dominant force in the Bay League, and compiled a record of 3-2 for the season.

In pre-season competition, the Varsity was consistent in its performances. They placed third at Cabrillo, third at El Camino, fourth in Monte Vista, and eleventh at the California Invitational Tournament.

"We really had a fine start this season, even though we were so short on seniors", assured Coach Kent Wyatt, who returned for his eleventh year of coaching. "The team really worked hard getting ready for the league season, and it paid off."

After defeating North High 38-16, the Varsity suffered two losses. First to Mira Costa, and then to Palos Verdes. But then it was smooth sailing as they defeated Redondo and Torrance.

Team Co-Captain Greg Thornton, who placed first in all but one of the tournaments attended by the Varsity, was an inspiration to the rest of the team. His combined record of 27-1 was an uncontested achievement. Especially for a JUNIOR!

Filling other important spots on the Varsity were many outstanding wrestlers. Mark Juliusson, Seth Sperling, Raul Morales, Jorge Rodriguez, and Victor Davis were among these.

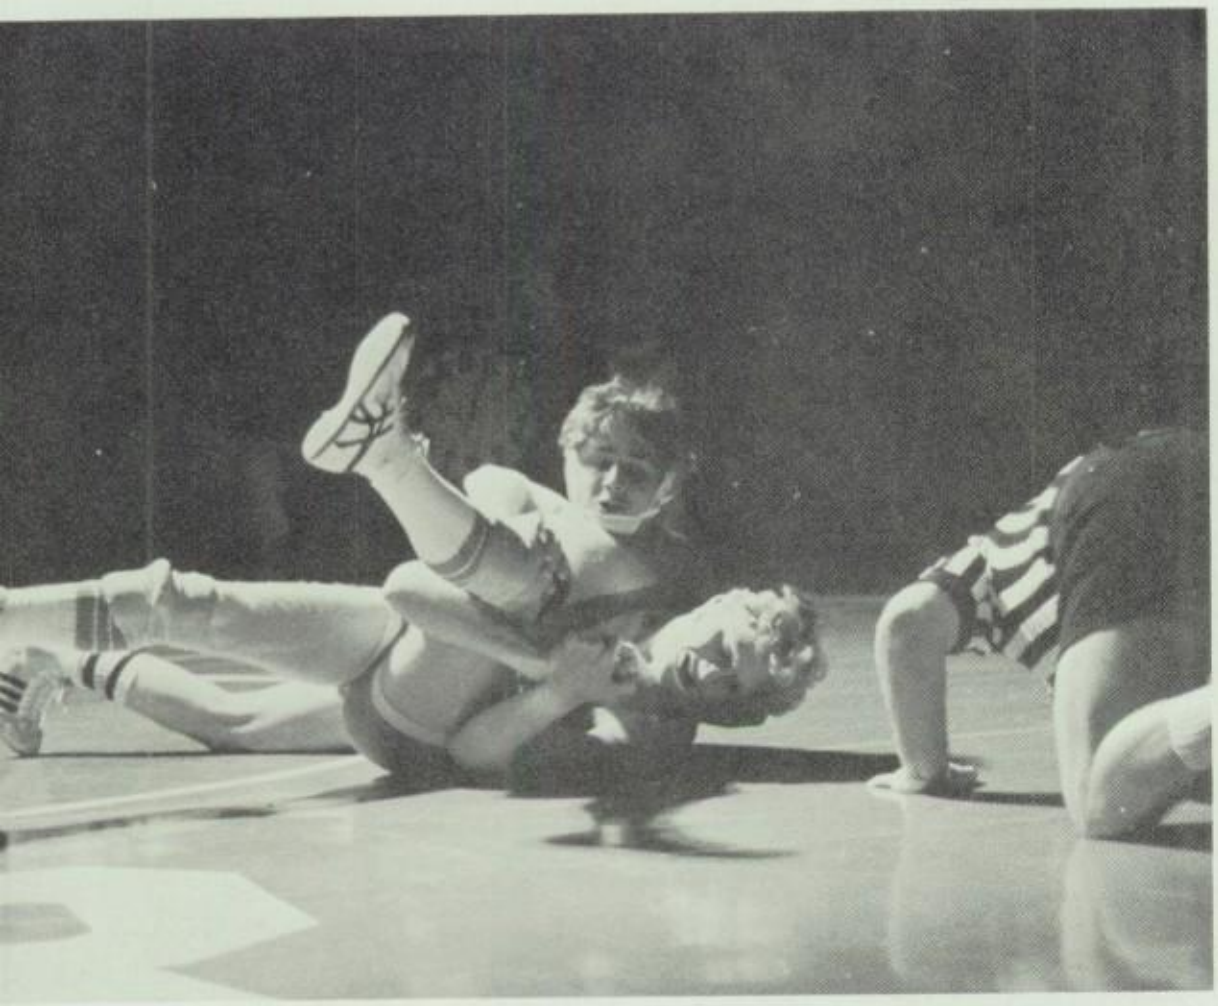
young wrestlers are dominating force in the bay league



Throughout the league season, the Junior Varsity gave consistant performances against opposing teams, even though not a single junior wrestled for them. They were able, however, to finish the season with a 4-1 record, losing only to league champions Mira Costa.

Though they were, noticeably, a young team, many outstanding athletes appeared. Dana Cottle, a freshman, was the Bay League champ at 140 pounds. Others were Craig Rusch, Glenn Kent, Lorne Richey, and Mark Magdeleno, who eventually achieved a spot on the Varsity squad.

Under the guide of Coach Jim Childers, these fine participants gained experience that will greatly help them in the years to come.

The Freshman squad was a force to be reckoned with this season, and was edged out of the championship by less than 10 points. Their close season ended dramatically with a 4-1 record.

Under the close care of returning freshman coach Ray McDougle, who wrestled for Wyatt years ago, the freshmen were exposed to the infinite wisdom that McDougle possesses. Hopefully, these fine competitors will return for another exciting season.

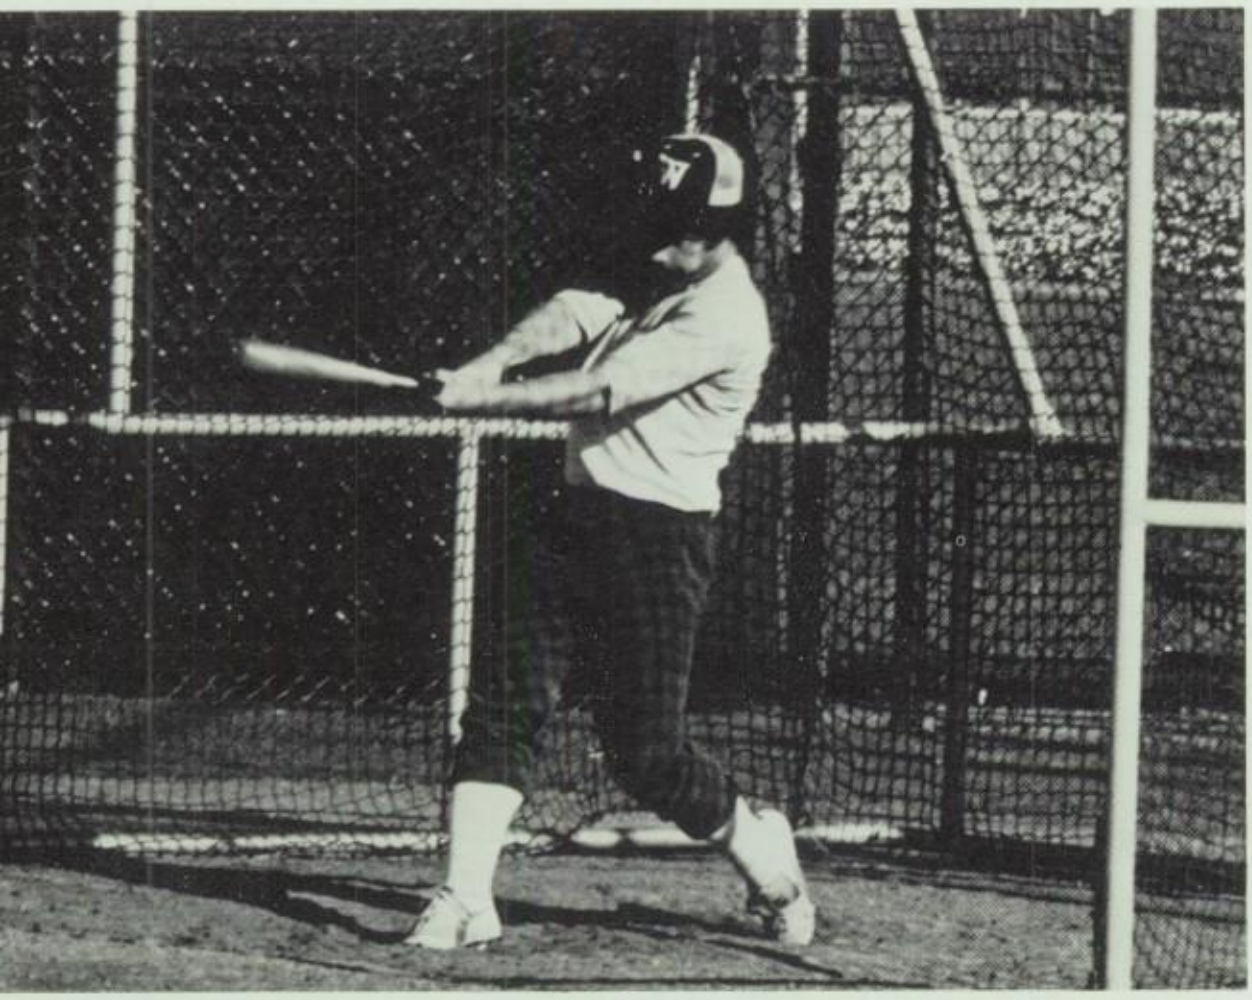
mental and physical attributes



Skill, drive, talent, dedication,...these are some of the characteristics of an athlete. Matt Provost and Mendy Porterfield are prime examples of West High students who possess these qualities. Both are masters of several sports proving to be truly "West High Stars".

Senior Matt Provost has brought style to the baseball, football, basketball, and soccer teams throughout his career at West. He's an aggressive player with a competitive attitude. "It's not how you play the game, it's whether you win or lose", said Provost with questionable sincerity. His versatility has made him a vital element to the West High sports scene.

Mendy Porterfield is an athlete for all seasons. In the winter it's soccer, in the spring it's softball, in the fall it's gymnastics, and in the summer it's volleyball down at the beach. She practices some kind of sport everyday, and is always in top physical condition. "It's kept me in shape. I eat a lot so if I hadn't played sports, I'd be big and fat", said the slender Mendy Porterfield.

Matt has played 3 years of varsity baseball, 2 years of varsity football, and has made "All Bay League" first team in both sports. Mendy has made varsity softball, volleyball, and soccer. Both have won numerous awards, and should continue bringing honor to West through their future accomplishments!

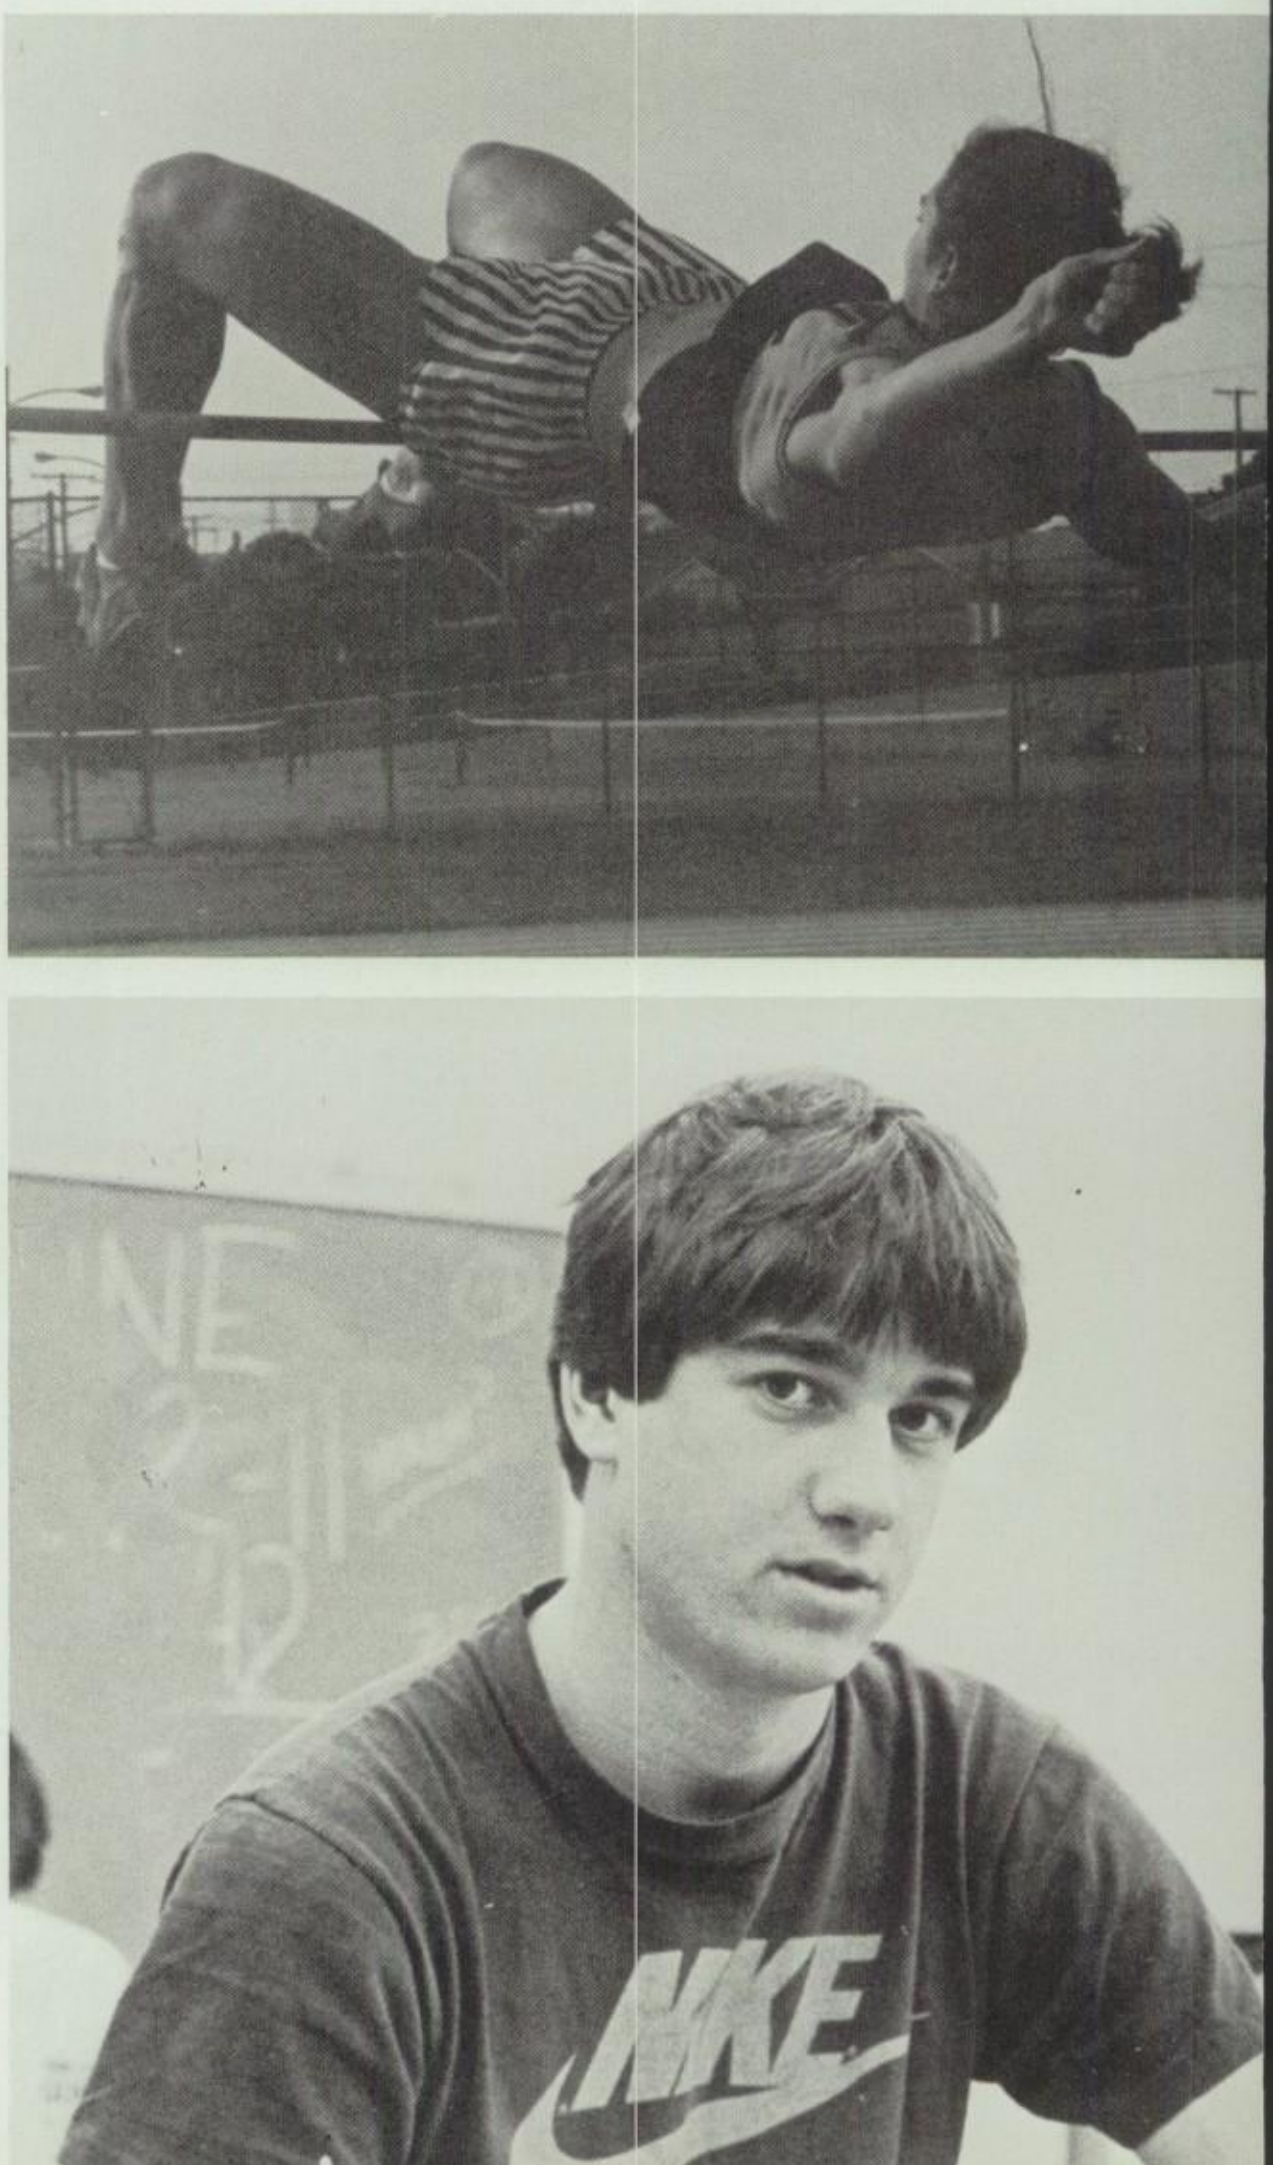
athletes: work toward the future

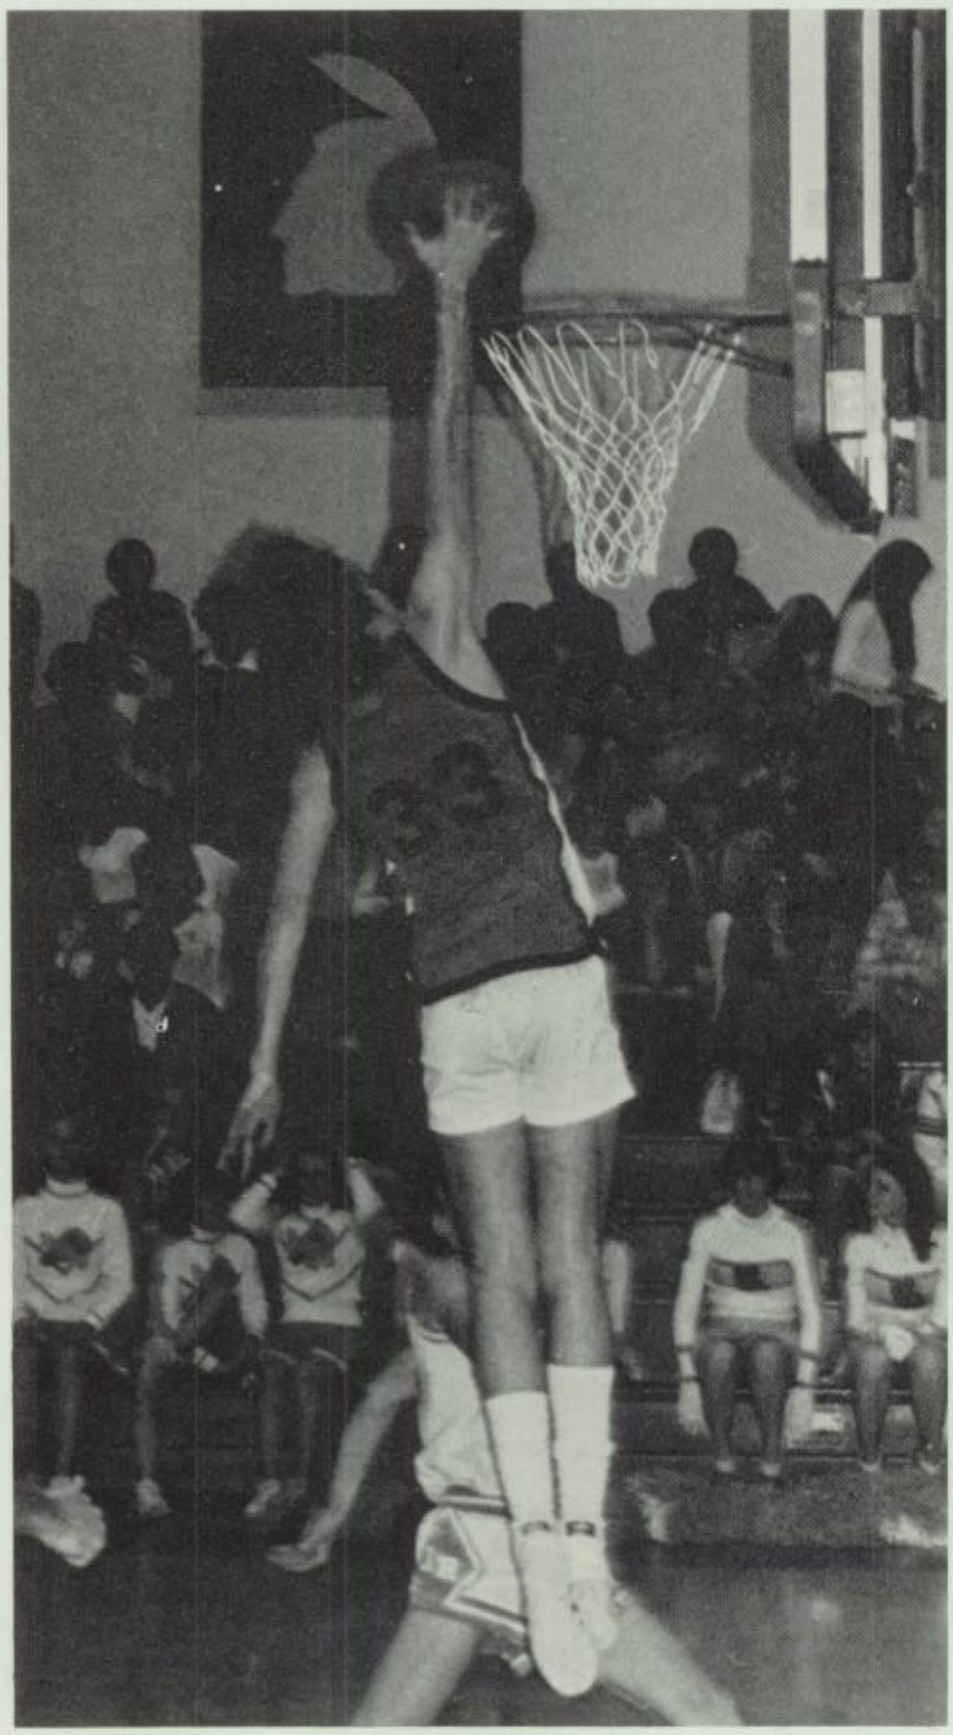
What does the future hold for the two West High superstars John Neu and Paula Weishoff? Both are stunning athletic performers with high goals for the years to come.

Paula has been playing on the varsity volleyball team for the past three years, and through her determination and skill, has been awarded Most Valuable Player on several occasions. In order to be successful in the sport of volleyball, one must be a real team player. "Playing with a good team makes you play a lot better", remarked Paula. At the moment, Paula has no desire to go professional, but rather, her goal is to make the 1984 Olympic team. This would be quite an achievement, but if anyone can do it, she can. Paula is also a skillful soccer player and high jumper.

Averaging 28 points per game, West High's shooting star, John Neu, is an almost flawless offensive performer. The key to his success is hard work. "Anyone can achieve his goal if he puts enough time and effort into it", commented John. He's been playing basketball at West for the past four years, and he hopes someday to make it in the pros.

John and Paula have set high goals for themselves. Through continuous hard work and determination, their goals move more and more from a dream to reality!





battling for cif championship

After six weeks of preliminary play that included at least ten matches, the 1979-80 Boys Varsity Soccer team won their first league game against Palos Verdes by a score of 5-2. They then faced a tough contender, South High, and lost a hard fought battle by the score of 2-1. At the end of the first round, the Warriors remained in a solid second place behind South High by a margin of two points.

In their second round of league games, they again found themselves put up against the physical play of South. South had scored in the first half of the game, but the Warriors battled back to tie the game at 1-1.

Leading the Varsity team in scoring were Mark Mittleman, Brian McMullen, and Gary Smith who all played brilliantly in their games. This years defense, led by Mark Evans, proved to be tough and managed to keep their opponents to low scoring games.

Coach Eaton said "We have a tough Varsity team and the only thing that stands between us and a C.I.F. championship is South High."

girls basketball surprises league

As predicted by both the players and Coach Darrell Adams, the Girls Varsity Basketball team was vastly improved this season.

"Everyone showed up to practice and they tried much harder." said Adams. The workouts paid off since they won their first league game versus Aviation, 47-36. Even the games the Warriors lost were tight and exciting.

Yet, with only four returning players, the team was still young and had to learn new offensive and defensive plays.

Ronda Miller led the team in scoring in the early season with an average of 13 points per game. Gina Shearer and Licia Ledbetter, former Junior Varsity guards, showed great improvement as they scored and assisted their teammates.

Coached by Gregory Brouillette, the Junior Varsity team had a terrific season, starting with a third place award in the North High Invitational Tournament. The Warriors also won their first league game topping Aviation, 36-27.

Cathy Yam, Carrol Montalbo, and the only returning player, Rhonda Gooch led their team.

Practicing with and learning the same techniques as the Varsity gave the young Warriors an advantage over most of their opponents.

despite lack of experience, varsity is a top contender

After winning 120 games in the past six years, and being in the play-offs for five consecutive seasons, the Varsity baseball squad considers it a tradition to do well.

"We've had some real greats in the past, and you just come to expect that we'll have a good team," boasted Coach Ron Parks.

At the end of last season, the Varsity found themselves with only three returning Varsity players for this year. Seniors Matt Provost, catcher, Tony Bloomfield, second base, and first baseman Dean Robelotto were the veteran force of the Varsity team.

As the season started, West was projected as fifth in the Bay League. With a present record of 3-1, West has defeated the second and third rated teams, Rolling Hills and Palos Verdes.

Their only defeat so far sustained, occurred against North High. In a close, hard-fought game, the Warriors were beaten 12-3.

The Warriors only injury came when Robelotto received a broken finger and was put on the fifteen day disabled list.

The tournament season for the Varsity was short, but important. Competing in the Palos Verdes and El Segundo Tournaments, the Varsity was exposed to out-of-league competition that Coach Parks said was, "A great help to all of the players, especially the younger ones."

With tradition so important to them, the Varsity team played their season expertly, and truly continued it in an honorable way.

baseball moves in style

baseball teams work to gain experience

For a team that only managed a .500 season last year, the J.V. baseball squad dominated 1980 league play, totaling a press-time record of 7-3-1.

With 15 games remaining, the J.V.'s still had the best part of their season ahead. They were in the finals of the Palos Verdes-Aviation Tournament at press-time: A position that required an undefeated tournament record of 4-0.

The J.V.'s were plagued with a lack of veterans when most of last year's lettermen moved up to the varsity squad this year. Juniors Rick Andrews, Matt Bosnak, Todd Buckridge, and Sophomore Brian Infield represented the entire returning team.

Under the guidance of Coach Mike Palazzo, the J.V.'s were able to exercise their talents to the best of their capabilities and experience.

With such outstanding players as Greg Bochesa, Robby Hartwig, and Gary Evens, the Frosh-Soph team compiled a league record of 1-3 as of press-time.

"We haven't really gotten the breaks yet", said Coach Scotty Grey. "We've got oodles of talent, but we just need to put it all together now!"

Since there were 12 league games left in the season, both coaches and players felt confident that they could repeat as league champions in 1980.

softball starts anew in lower

The girls Varsity Softball team was dropped from the Bay League into the less difficult Ocean League at the start of the 1980 season. Regarding the move to a lower league, Coach Tim Scully said, "This should be an advantage because we have always been successful against teams in the Ocean League."

With five returning Varsity players, including All League catcher Lori Wolken, the Warriors still had much of the teamwork as they had last season.

Kim Dezso, Mendy Porterfield, and Tracy Cody played strong offense as they drove in many runs. Junior Patty O'Neil and veteran Laura Collins put speed and control into every pitch.

As for their first league game versus Lawndale, Coach Scully simply stated, "I think we have a good chance of winning it."

soccer dominates league

Consisting of talent that would have been varsity starters on almost any other team, the Junior Varsity walked over their competition to become Bay League champions, with a final record of 17-1-4.

The depth of West's talent was showed by the fact that nine of the J.V. players were moved up to the Varsity squad for the C.I.F. playoff games. Coach DeFord remarked of the J.V.'s that "The starting 11 could have won any varsity league title, except the Bay League."

Leading the offensive team were, Louie Flokas, and Vince Shortland, while Scott Hayworth was the core of West's solid defense.

With nineteen returning sophomores, the Frosh-Soph soccer team was positively unstoppable. They finished their hard, grueling season as the Bay League Champions, with a 19-1 record.

In their only loss of the season, against South in the South High Christmas Tournament, the team truly dominated the whole game. "We spent the entire game down on their goal", said Coach Mike Stanford. "They never really went on offense once".

After four overtimes, South achieved a fast-break situation and scored the games only goal. "It's easy to completely dominate a game and still lose", grinned Stanford.

From the beginning of the season, the Boys Tennis team realized that they did not have the talent to compete against some of the other teams in the Ocean league.

"We'll be lucky if we place third this season.", commented Coach Cox.

In the first pre-season game, the Warriors easily defeated Hawthorne by a score of 17-11. Senior Mark Tichenor was regarded by many to be one of the best singles players in the South Bay. Other leading Varsity players included Suk Bin Im, Anthony Wang, and Steve Nuygen.

The JV team battled consistantly throughout the season for first place, led by impressive performances by Freshmen Warren Aka and Ernie Chen.

varsity track has high expectations

Living up to the high expectations the team and coaches held, the Varsity girls started the season by once again winning the sweepstake trophy at the Eddie West Relays. By winning six out of nine events, they convincingly dominated the meet and their opponents.

In the first two practice meets, the girls easily defeated their competitors—Hawthorne and then defending state champions Westchester. Led by sophomore Kati Peterson and sprint captain Monica Mazet, along with Erin O'Shaughnessy, and sophomore hurdler, Tonya Motes, who was a CIF Qualifier last year and had bettered that time this year. The team was expected to sweep their league for the sixth straight season.

Although the boys Varsity team wasn't expected to be a contender in the Bay League, they have a promising future ahead of them. The team including two seniors, hurdler Rocky Hughes and distance runner Bob Aube as well as junior Robert Winegar, was basically very young they have exceptional individual talent but may lack the depth to make up for its inexperience.

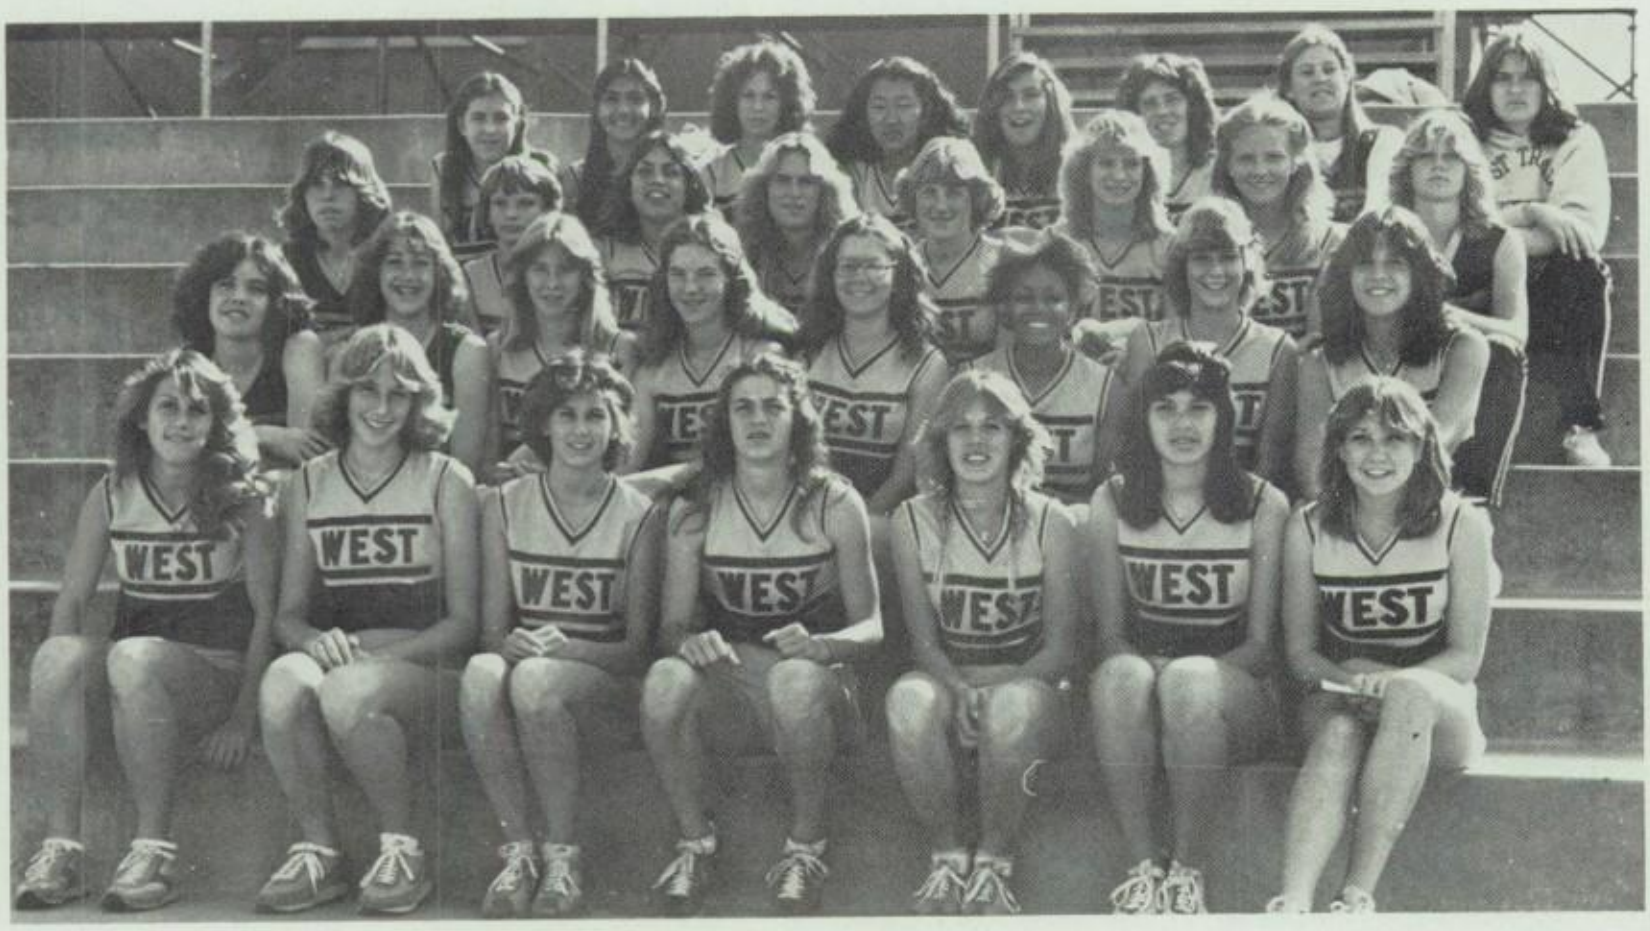
track teams look ahead

West's JV girls' team has traditionally been outstanding and this year was no exception. The team, led by Trinette May, Elaine Jameson and Dana Duperron, was defending Bay League Champion and expected to have little trouble duplicating this feat.

The sophomore boys were strong in most events and favored to win the Bay League Title this year. The coaches felt that if the team pulled through in the distance events, they would be unbeatable. The team was led by: Tom Yee, school record holder in the triple jump; Bill Maher, sprints; and Kevin Kasten, weight events.

The boys freshman were well rounded, but as Coach Peterson said of the team, "It is always hard to tell how the freshman team will do" they expected to battle Palos Verdes and Rolling Hills for the title.



girls gymnastics makes fresh start

Girls' gymnastics had a fresh start this season. The team consisted of nine members, which is quite small compared to last year's team of twenty two, so there was more pressure put on each girl. Despite this, the girls managed to do well in competition. They placed third in their first meet, and won seven ribbons.

"A gymnast must be an athlete, artist, and performer rolled into one. She must have strength, coordination, and timing", says coach, Tricia Sandidge. The girls compete in four events: vault, free exercise, balance beam, and uneven bars. Sophomore Lisa Longhenry proved to be a real asset on the bars, coming in second place in the first meet. Kathy Bachus, a freshman, had the best-all-around score of the West High gymnasts in the same meet. According to the coach, she has great potential.

The team, at this point, is in the developing stages. However, through more experience in high school competition, these gymnasts should prove to be very successful in the future.

boys volleyball never gives up

"It's hard to say just how we will do", confessed Coach Dave Westberg, who returned after a year of retirement to coach the Varsity squad.

Although they had such outstanding athletes: Craig Evenson, Dave Potter, Rick Bejarano, Eric Magnussen, and Gary Walters, the Varsity got off to a slow start, and with nine games left in the league season, they had a press-time record of 2-5.

Their season highlight came when they placed in the top five in the Inglewood Tournament, with a combined record of 4-6.

With so much of their season ahead, the Varsity was still hopeful that they could pull-off the championship. "We won't give this one up until the last game is played", assured Westburg.

With skillful players, Mike Kell, John Hahn, and Keith Provin, the J.V. Volleyball team hoped to repeat as Bay League Champions for the third consecutive season.

"They've worked really hard getting ready for this season, I think they'll go all the way again", said Coach Dave Westberg.

At press-time, the J.V.'s were beginning their pursuit of the championship by winning their first three games. Their chances of a repeat season look outstanding.

a night to remember

November 17, 1979

Dear Diary,

Last night was the best! My friends and I went to the Homecoming football game against Centennial. It was great—especially our winning score—
The most exciting part, though, came at halftime when Linda got queen! She was really happy and her dad seemed so proud. First, all the lights went out, then fireworks lit up her name, and a thousand helium balloons were set off, but I couldn't see them because it was still dark! Linda was so funny, I couldn't believe it when she took off her shoes in the middle of the field as Cheryl Thune was crowning her! It was a super day all around, but I wish we could have won the spirit stick at school , only the dumb juniors got it.

Well, anyways, tonight was the Homecoming dance and it was even more exciting. We went out to dinner about 6:30 to the Warehouse and really "pigged-out"! Finally, we got to the dance and everyone looked fantastic all dressed up in their best clothes. This year we picked the theme of "Dim All The Lights" and the gym was decorated all glittery. We had our pictures taken, drank a glass of punch, and danced and danced to the band, "Light". In the middle of the dance Kevin was announced as Homecoming King. I think he was more excited than Linda, the night before! Then, Kevin and Linda danced in the traditional royal court dance. The night was over too soon, but I will never forget the great time I had this weekend.

See you tomorrow

Senior memories: self scheduling, the "herd",

COLEEN ADACHI
Asian Cultural Club (yellow power rah!), Math Club, C.S.F., N.H.S., JV and Varsity Basketball (honorary Pine Bro), JV Track, Social Studies Award, LA Times "A" Student, Principal's Honor Roll, Honor Roll-how utterly unimpressive!

After four long years of re-admits, tardy bells, and corner lockers, I can't believe it's over! I suppose I'll eventually forget the agony of self- scheduling last, the pain of climbing to the third floor of Building 3, and the misery of a calculator malfunctioning on an exam. But I will always remember the good times shared with good friends. Those of you who were always there to help lift me up when I was down (oh how I luv those dumb jokes!), always there to lend an ear to my thoughts (even though you could care less), and always there to encourage me when there was little hope . . . deserve a special place in my heart. West would not have been as fun without you.

NANCY ALPERN
Beg. Glee, Adv. Glee, Choir, Social Studies Club, Acadamia Club, Citizenship Awards, L.A. Times "A" Student, Honor Roll, Speech, Forensics, C.S.F., House of Representatives, F.B.L.A., and won 2 first place trophies at the Novice Speech Tournament.

I would like to thank Mr. Pickard for helping me to learn more about myself and to respect other people's opinions. Mr. Pickard, you made Forensics a class I looked forward to everyday, and I'll always remember you for it. I hope you won't ever forget your little Jewish friend. I'd also like to thank Mrs. LaFeur, who not only taught me the difference between "ser" and "estar", but also how to be a thoughtful person. Mrs. LaFleur, I hope that someday I will be at least half as knowledgable as you.

Thank you Mr. Fenn, you've given me so much. The ability to see within myself my potential, and the ability to express myself through music.

Looking back, I am ashamed to see that this is all I have accomplished in four years of high school.

"So much to do, yet so little time."

MATT BARBER
"Social Studies Club"; President, "Academia"; "Smoke Signals" — film reviewer, review editor, news editor, editor-in-chief (not all at the same time, though it seemed like it).

Special thanks to Mrs. Fahey for her attitude, Mrs. MacNamara for good times, Mr. Waring for a lot of fun, Mr. Call for some trust, Mrs. Naramore and Ms. Olsen for some freedom, and to Mrs. Nickel, Mrs. Harrell, and Mrs. Young for always saying hello to me in the hall.

To cite special friends would take forever — you're all special in so many ways.

As for my dreams, all I have to say is this:
Those of you who know me, know.
You know who you are.
And those of you who don't
Can fall in a hole.

Bye, West! I guess you are the best after all.

JOHN BERRYMAN
I'm writing my Deeds and Dreams not to recognize myself but to recognize my family and friends. I want to thank all of my friends for a special four years. Even though there have been hard times, our friendship has held through. I hope that after we're out of school we can still have that lasting friendship that we have developed over the years.

I hope that all your dreams come true in every facet of life-with your occupations, your schooling, and with your future husbands.

To my sister Renee, I want to thank you for being there through my happy times and through all of my problems. And to my brother Roland, I give you my prayers for your last two years here at West.

Now I say good-bye to West High, but Hello to a whole new different world.

TRACY BURKHARDT
The last 4 years have gone by quick. The last year always goes the fastest. I will miss the years in high school as they were some of my funnest years of my life. I lost a few friends but gained many more. To the girl I met in 6th grade on a teatherball court I wish all the happiness in the world. Keep in touch. To the one who falls all the time get a new pair of shoes. I hope everything you want in life becomes yours.

To all my other friends I hope everything they want and believe in will be their's. Last but not least to my little sister (not so little). May her last two years at West be an important part of her life. I will miss West.

Freshmen Year. Excitement, the fun begins. Your first formal dance and parties, meeting new people, learning your alma mater and winning your first football game.

Sophomore and Junior Year. In the swing of things. Your now involved and living it up. You've now noticed that the lime light of life is dimming and growing darker.

Senior Year. You've reached your peak. Enjoying the life of a senior. It's all fun and games. "Suddenly it's Graduation day, the brown and gold lives on, we are now gone, and all that remains is a memory of the past."

Smile, and just enjoy yourself.

My four years at West went really fast. McDonald's, the beach, and our long drives were really great. Thanks for all your help D.A. I would never have made it without you. I'll always remember my years at West, my special friends, good times, and September 2, 1979. I hope everyone remembers their yesterdays, lives for their todays, and dreams for their tomorrows. May everyone find someone as special as I have to share their love, dreams, experiences, and disappointments with. Good luck to all, especially my friend with the busy window. The memories of your house will last forever.

Thank you West for the knowledge and the memories . . .

DIANE COMBIS

To me my high school years have been the best in my life so far. It gave me the chance to participate in a lot of fun activities and to meet many wonderful people. All of my closest friends really made high school special with all the crazy, funny times and experiences we all shared together. I will never forget all the memories that we all have. But, Debbie, you really top the cake. We have so many memories happy and sad that will remain in my mind forever. But even though high school is over our friendship sure isn't. Our friendship will last forever, we both know that. Thank you for being the person you are and for helping me through a lot of tough times. I love you B.B.O.P.! You're the Greatest! But one person who really made my high school years the most memorable and happy is of course Jimmy! I will never forget you for as long as I live. Thank you for giving me the best year and a half that I've ever had. Our experiences that we shared together will be cherished in my mind forever. Thank you for making me so happy and for everything you've done for me. You're the best! Please always remember that I love you! Thank you everyone for making high school a happy memorable time in my life. Well I'll catch you on the flip (flop).

ANN COSTANZA
There's a feeling I get, when I look to the West, and my spirit is crying for leaving . . .

Before I leave West High, I'd like to forget my deeds and dreams and take time to say goodbye to all my closest friends, especially our "family"—it was you guys who made my years at West something to look back on. First to Heidi, my closest and sweetest buddy—I couldn't have done it without you, you know that. You're a terrific friend and thank you for everything you've done for me (including the cover, it's beautiful!) Lisa, (re, re, re) one of my few 'real' friends—you're so special and I know you're right-we're gonna make it. Liz, Linda, Pam and Arline—we had so much fun together! Our group is the only one that has lasted over the years—I know that means something. To John and Kevin, in four years, you two made some times I'll never forget. Thank you! Matt, Lynn, and Bill, my senior year wouldn't have been the same without you guys. You're great! Jane, my crazy co, you were always there and ready to listen, cry, or laugh. Maybe someday Steve will forgive us! Erin, you've been a super friend for a long time. I thank you for that and remember always to think of tomorrow and how much worse things could be! Ginny and Jeff (hey kids!), I've grown up with both of you and I will always remember the good times we had (abortion clinic . . .) —thanks for all your help and friendship. To Wanda, my special friend, don't ever lose sight of who you really are, and I hope you are always happy. Pam, I'm really glad we became friends, as well as council-mates. You were the sports, deeds and dreams, friends and lovers

best to work with —I hope we never have to sew sheets together for a long time! Tim, there's so much more up there in that head of yours than most people see. Maybe someday I will know and understand it all. Until then, I just want you to know that your friendship has meant a lot to me, in fact, probably more than anything. Thanks so much —you're a super person and good luck with everything next year. To Traci, Jeff, Loretta, and MaryAnn —can you believe we made it all the way from Mrs. Jamile's? Good Luck! Finally to the Kingdom, especially Matt (who owes me season tickets), thanks for putting up with me and the herd. You all made our senior year unforgettable. To all my friends, although I may never see any of you again, you will be in my thoughts for a long time ...

Just do the steps that you've been shown
By everyone you've ever known
Until the dance becomes your very own
No matter how close to yours anothers steps have grown
In the end, there is one dance you'll do alone

I leave high school feeling as though I have achieved something and know where to go, but somehow I also feel so confused and uncertain ...

Is this a road going nowhere
Or is someone leading us somewhere?
I can't believe we're here for no reason
There must be something we can believe in

LEE CUMBERLIN

If I could change the past
I would not change a moment.
My future is not here
So why should I worry about it?
What I have is the present and I must live it to the fullest.
To KRIS- Montana seems nearer, and you are there in my future. May God take care of us as we are separated, and my God look over us when we are together. Many people in the past have helped me for my future. One person will always remain with me. Long may her bobo's survive. The real world of unbalanced accounts.

The mailer: Thanks for everything, you know what I mean. Life wouldn't be as fun without you. Good luck at HSU. Teatherball pal: Good talks and lots of fun times, I know it will continue forever. Candy Queen: You're a lot of laughs and do both "Add Life", and "You're funny." Thanks for sticking with me all these years, it has been and still will be great. Sunglass kid: We've really grown close this year, I'm glad. We had a lot of fun times and laughs. Hope you meet "that certain guy" and live happily ever after. Last but not least, Summer of '78, you know who you are, we miss you. It was great when we had you. sorry we lost you. But, remember we're always here. To everyone else left at West: Good luck and have fun. Live it up before you hit the big World out there. Lots of Luck. Enjoy!

FRED CZARSKE

There's a river in the evening ember glow
And you're wishing you could see how far it flows
Rolling on to an endless sea
You'd be well on your way if you could only set sail.

But dreams can drift away and sails can fill
With doubt
Where's your vision if the embers flicker out?
Don't let it slip from view
The horizons are waiting your river is fading.

So keep the fire burning tonight
See just what comes into sight
Don't take forever - take it thru the night.
And believe the sun will rise with the dawn
That's all you need to go on - but for tonight
Just keep the fire burning bright.

I will never need to ask "What have I done?"
Comes a moment when it's clear
There's only one.
Oh, whatever you need of me
I've made up my mind
I'll give you more than you've asked for

And there are those who can forsee
Where we will go ... All the future ...
I don't really want to know
Only that you'll be here with me.

While the embers wtill glow
We'll be safe till tomorrow.

PEGGY LYNN DYSON

Memories of my friends over the years, green m&m fights, silent screams, ping-pong, guinness group inc., hubba-bubba or bubba-hubba (whichever!!), and the like. Those moments comprised the best years of my life. I want to thank all my wonderful teachers (you know who you are), who really showed me how to use my creativity to the fullest. I wouldn't have gotten this far without you. To my little jellbrain sister, Beth, please stay off the liquid wrench and mellow out, you've got three more years to go! UGH! I love ya! You, too, Carla, WANK!!! I hope you find as much bizarre pleasure in this place as I have. Oh, I also leave you my #69 Economics book.

My only real dream in life is to be my best: living, laughing, and loving! I wish that all my friends find their dream and maybe one day we can compare notes! I am going to miss all of you very much, now that we are going to find our place in the world. As for me, I plan to go on to college, get married, and buy a summer home near the Bridge of Sighs, studying for my Ph.D. Yes, you can visit, Mom and Dad!

Thank you, everybody, for what I needed most: LIFE! And to those who brought me there:

Babe, as it was then again it will be Though the course may change sometimes it will always reach the sea

Changes fill my time
baby, that's all right with me
In the midst I think of you and how it used to be.

Did you ever really need somebody?
Did you ever really want somebody?
Will ya ever remember me, baby?

It is very difficult to put four years of my life into a few sentences. I will remember my high school years always. I have so many people to thank for helping me grow into the person I am today. I have had wonderful and caring teachers and many good friends. I wish to express my appreciation to all of them. I only hope that I will continue to meet people as wonderful as I have met here. I wish good luck and much happiness to all my friends.

My memories of West will always be those of happiness. I was active in Pep Squad and the explorers club. Being involved has given me friendships and experiences I will never forget.

I always thought that I'd have some profound statement to leave the rest of the world on this (happy?) occasion, maybe even a list of one or two of my accomplishments. Somehow, though, my mind has gone blank, and the things I've done don't seem quite as important anymore. So I'll thank my friends (Mary for putting up with me and always being there - 2 medium pizzas to go; Jeff for your infinite patience; Mimi for letting me crash at your house on all those Saturday nights) and leave the words of someone else ... Take time to dream.

Lay offshore for a night
the moon almost touches the sea off to starboard
laughing tricks of light that never deceive though she's just a child

re-admits, tardy bells,

Sitting on the beach watching for a sail at last swimming out the silver trail leaving her shoes behind on the sand

She's a fantasy child tonight skimming the mirror waves headed out somewhere won't be back for awhile

These last 4 years at West have been very enjoyable. I want to thank all my friends who were always there to listen. I especially want to thank-

Superjew- I will always remember our junior year because, that's when we met.

Kern River- Thanks for being a great friend these past 11 years. Hope it'll last another 11 years (at least). When are we going to Switzerland? Oh yeah, take good care of the camper.

To the Green M&M- I will always cherish our friendship. Do you remember the Animal? Save me some GREEN M&M'S.

I also want my one very special friend to know that I still think of her. Wish we could have remained close friends. I'll always remember our many travels and experiences. Do you remember Catalina? (Sheri, I hope you know that I'm talking about you.)

To all my other friends I've made, I want you all to know that without all of you I would never have survived West. Thanks again. I Love you and Good Luck.

Hope all your dreams come true,

How could four years have gone by so quickly? I don't feel any older and yet I feel that I've grown in so many ways. My time at West has been a period of discovery; discovering myself, discovering what I want to do with my life, and discovering the things and people that are important to me. I'm not even close to finishing learning the process, but West has served as the all-important initial step.

I see no reason for listing my deeds as all they are, are stones of experience and knowledge on which to build.

Before I finish there are a few things that I'd like to say to the people who've played the biggest roles in my life at West.

Margie- If there's one thing that I hope you get out of school is that the only one who can make you do something is yourself. School can be so rewarding and fun if you just let it be.

Mike- I hope that we'll still go on our Saturday morning excursions, but whatever happens, I wish you (and Dawn) the best of luck in the future. P.S. - Don't you hate it when you can't find the hole.

and lastly Ginny- There's so much to say. You'll be a part of me that I'll never forget. I'm sure that someday you will fulfill your every dream, including owning a dog. I hope you can retain your V.I.P., or do I?

High school is here and gone, and like every other experience that must come to an end, there is a sadness, but outweighing this is a mountain of happy thoughts and memories of high school days. I don't want to sound like the typical mushy "deed and dream" but I musy say that high school will be one of the best of life's experiences if you would only let yourself enjoy the times, while meeting the exciting, and difficult challenges that appear along the way.

Now, I am leaving behind those high school years to go onto bigger, better, and more exciting things-college. (UCLA!!!) One thing I'll never leave behind though are all of my friends. Without you, high school would have only been school, but you gave it the "high". We'll always be a "far out, funky, cool, low down, feel the vibes, cosmic, groovy, right on," gang. Can you relate man?!?

To everyone and most of all, to one special person who has always been the best of the best, Diane Combis, my B.B.O.P., remember this:

The rose of the valley may wither,
The pleasures of youth pass away,
But friendship shall blossom forever,
While all other flowers decay.

CAROL GROCE

In my four years at West, I have made many friends. But it was not until this year that I realized how important having concered friends really is. I had to have back surgery at the beginning of the second quarter. I was surprised at how compassionate and understanding my teachers were. I owe them much thanks for their help. Teachers really are human! I want to thank all of my friends for their love and helpfulness. It is the best thing in the world to know that people care about you. I hope that someday I can comfort someone as they have comforted me. It will have made everything worthwhile.

"Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of Compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have receiver from God."

MATT HAGAN

These four years at West seemed to have just flown by. I never really stopped to look at what was happening and what I was really doing with my life. It seemed natural just to let school go by with me right in the middle of it. I've had good times and bad times here at West, but from each and every experience I've learned something new that will enhance my entire life. Now that I'm nearing the end of high school, I've realized that my friends really played an important role in the things I've done. They've built me up when I was down and have really brought a new meaning to the word "friend."

Billy, thanks for all the times you've lent me a helping hand. Thank you for being there. I will treasure your friendship always. To my favorite girl in town, from you I've learned the most, you brought me the happiness I thought I could never find. You've been there to hold me up when I was down, only to bring me back up. We've gone through a lot together and the memories from you will be the fondest. Thanks Linda, I love you. Scott, Robert, and Phil, what can I say? You guys have been more than brothers to me.

To our everlasting "FAMILY", I love you all. Thanks for being there. Lynn, thanks for all the love and laughs. Good-Bye, West High, I will always cherish your memories.
P.S. Bye, Bye, Brown Guy.

NANNETTE HARNED

Most people don't love school including myself, but, I have enjoyed the things which we the students and West High's staff have worked for. It has been really special this year because of Sweethearts. The Naval Academy Choir and other such things that we haven't had here before.

I've had an interesting life in school but, I am looking forward to the future. I plan to go on to college so, I'm not really out of school but, I've finished with my education that has been required. Now the rest is all my choice. As the saying goes "This is not the end but, the beginning."

This is the beginning of new adventures for me. I am very adventurous and I like to learn about new and foreign things. Life is a thrill if you make it thrilling! One thing I always remember is: Life is only what you make it!!!!!!

HEIDI HOOPES
I thank everyone who has helped me. Without the patience and understanding I have received, I would be - nowhere, nothing. For this I am truly grateful. I have few friends out of my many acquaintances. To those special people-Stay real and don't forget our good memories. They can never be replaced. My love goes to:
Lisa- You're going far. Keep your head on straight. Remember, normal people are easy to be found. Real people are the scarce ones. When you're real, you don't have to play Head games.
Ann- You're a genius. No matter what has happened or will happen, Don't forget our friendship.
Liz- You're the special one. There's no one else like you. Take care of my car.
M- How I wish I could say what I feel. Thanks for your friendship and the good times we've had. I'll never forget.
Kingdom- I attached myself to you, but you acted like you didn't mind. Thanks for pretending.
And to the rest of my Herd: Linda, Pam, Jenny and for the ones growing up, Peggy, Patty, Timmy. My family of friends cried with me and pulled me through bad times. Laughed with me during the good times. I love you all more than you'll ever know. Or I could ever express.
Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove;
O, no! it is an ever-fixed mark
That looks on tempest and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.
Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Withing his bending sickles compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom.
If this be error and upon me proved,
I never writ, nor no man ever loved.

Then, as if from nowhere
They appear,
Those you've not seen since
The start of the year.
Saying "Good-bye",
Intentions unclear,
Suddenly they hold you dear.
Suddenly surrounding you
Is the crowd,
Hugging you as if they
Had always been allowed.
An air of plasticity
Seems to enshroud
The people and hovers above
Like a cloud.
Selfish intentions
Pierce like a hook.
They steal signatures
Like a clever crook.

The future will look,
Because so many have signed in

To all my friends, Thanks for the good times, thanks for the bad, for they both made it worth living.
To all my favorite coachs: Thanks for the special times. Without your help, understanding, and somtimes a little bit of pushing, I never would have made it!
Good-by WEST, thanks for the memories.
Hey Marci, we finally made it!!

A great music teacher once said, "Youth is wasted on the young." So many older people wish for opportunities that the young throw away. High school may be your last chance to experience practically anything you want. Go for it all! "You've got your passion, you've got your pride, But don't you know that only fools are satisfied."

Thanks to Mr. Palazzo for always putting a smile on my face. Thanks to Ms. Holcomb for working so many hours with me in Dance. Thanks also to Ms. Wilson for bringing so many new thoughts into my head, and for having such a fun and interesting class. And Mr. Wooton, thanks for "TIGER." I love him.

"AMERICAN GIRL"

Well she was an American girl
Raised on promises
She couldn't help thinkin'
That there was a little more to life somewhere else
After all it was a great big world
With lots of places to run to
And if she had to die tryin'
She had one little promise she was gonna keep

Oh yeah, all right
Take it easy, baby
Make it last all night
She was an American girl

Well it was kinda cold that night
She stood alone on her balcony
Yeah, she could hear the cars roll by
Out on 441 like waves crashin' on the beach
And for one desperate moment
There he crept back in her memory
God it's so painful when something that's so close
Is still so far out of reach

Oh yeah, all right
Take it easy, baby
Make it last all night
She was an American girl.

EDYE KRAKOVER
Life is short and loved ones pass away right before our eyes. Never again can we share those special moments with our lost loved one. They'll never see our accomplishments, our joys or our sorrows. If we had known the person would die in a few hours what would we say or do? But there was no warning or time in which we could sum up our gratitude and affection with him. We didn't have a chance to say we were sorry for all the bad things we did in the past, and out of all the good things that person did for us, we didn't have the chance to repay him, in some way. We thought maybe in the future when we were older and more established but that time never came. Worse than that, there was no one last embrace with a kiss summing it all up with-I love you. Who would have thought that an ordinary day would have turned into a day of mourning. We put off saying I love you saying, "They know we do." But, when we find out we can't say that last I love you, what can we do?
I have but one dream - never put anything off until the next day. Live each day as though it might, be your last; one day it will. Don't fear it just use every second wisely. Life is too short. Find a goal and go after it now—
Don't wait, accomplish all you can, and then some. The only thing that can stop you is you. You denying yourself the chance by having a negative attitude.
But most of all, don't forget. Whenever you have a chance-make a chance-and tell that special someone or group of people close to you-
I love you.

I can't believe it's almost time to go. I remember being a ttle girl, and couldn't wait to be grown up. I pulled out all of nom's dresses and put make-up on, and those funny piked shoes. Oh ME, grown up? It went too fast. I just wish I could do it all again. I've crossed the bridge halfway. I would have never made it without the love, faith, and upport of my family, teachers and dearest friends. I will never forget what I have learned here at West. I believe through all this I found happiness to be the most important eeling, without it, I could not survive. Through all the bad and frustrating times, my friends help pull me through them all. What caring, loving, understanding, and beautiful friends they are! I LOVE YOU GUYS! You have helped me grow so much! Lisa, Pam, Arline, Liz, Lyn, Heidi, Ann, and Jenny, you are all more than sisters to me! Thanks John, Kevin and Bill, you, too, have been so much inspiration to me! I give and wish all my friends all the luck and love in the future—I'll love and remember you always!
Matthew—There has been no one who has ever touched me so special. You have taught me happiness, love and to reach out ... Remember—our first kiss? Your friendship and love is cherished forever! I love you berry much! Tom and Dan, please take time to enjoy West—I love you two both very much. Do it for Mom and Dad. I was lucky enough to be involved in the Drama Department at West. It literally turned my life around. I met the best friends that I'll ever have in my life.
I got my first spotlight as a brat in Once Upon a Playground (which wasn't difficult for me to pull off, I'll admit). I was a townswoman in "Sneaky Fitch" and a stuffy schoolteacher in "Bad Seed". I was also let loose with a paint brush in the Art Department for 3 years, and I came out the better for it, thanxs to you, Mr. K. I also give my special, heartfelt thanks, respect and love to Mr. Scarlata. You've givin me the push I needed to get me in the right direction. I promise to mention you in my Oscar acceptance speech.
I plan to become a millionaire, if I'm not drafted into the Army first. If that happens, rest assured, I'll take extremely desperate measures.

Although this was my first and last year here at West, I really enjoyed it! I've made many new friends and had a lot of fun! However, I'd like to say, that there is something really special about West, different from any other high school, I've ever gone to, that is, the teachers, they really care about the students, and make the classes worth going to. Thanks to all of you!! You've taught me more than you think, thank you!!
And now I leave West with memories, one I won't want to forget!

CATHY MANOS
I loved my 4 years at West High, and each day was so meaningful to me.
I always enjoyed each moment becuase I knew that time would go by quickly. Perhaps I best express my feelings with these few words.

"On Being Happy"

i once wrote a song
that no one sang.
i once wrote a poem
that no one read.
i once painted a picture that no one saw.

and i wondered ...
why did i do these things?

then one day
i sung my song
and i read my poem
and i saw my picture

and i knew why
and i was happy

My one and only dream is to be happy, live a long life and marry a rich man. I have expensive taste. Also, thanks Coach Pete; if it weren't for you, I wouldn't be the girl I am today. I'll never forget you, or the team. Good luck in future years with everything. To all my friends, thanks, and we finally made it. See you all graduation night for one hell of a party!

The most important thing that West has given me is 4 years of great memories. I'll never forget the people I've met and the friends I've loved. Each of my friends are special and so are the memories of the times we've shared.
Even though we haven't been friends for very long, one very special person rises above the others, whose friendship and sometimes strange memories of being will always be remembered.
My dreams for the future are simple. I just want to be rich, famous, successful, happily married, and have 3 kids all at the same time. (I don't mean the kids!)

WANDA McCOURT
Well all I can say is thanks West for the best four years of my life, I will never forget these past four years, because they were the best.
While at West I met many people who became very good friends, to all of them I would like to leave all my Love and laughter and I wish them the Best of everything.
To my teachers here at West, and you know who you are, I say thanks for the friendship and the bundle of laughs, you were great.
To all the people who are still attending West I say be involved, have lots of friends and don't waste time, it goes fast and you will miss it once its gone. I was a stat for Baseball for 4 yrs, a Track, Cross Country, and Basketball stat for 2 yrs. I was involved in Pep Squad (RAH RAH), Modern Dance, Student Council, Forensics (where I got 1st place in story telling), Choir, Athletic Club, Gymnastics and many other activities.
To each and every person who knew me as Wanda, Shorty, Cakeshort, Rhoda, Midget, Cutie, Wicked Wanda, Wonderful Wanda, Blondie, Blonde Bomber, Ski bunny, Skinny Bones and all my other nick names, I leave this poem and my motto for life.

The way to be happy ... is to make

I've had a lot of fun here at West but I'm really looking forward to going away to college next year where I hope to start working towards a degree in Business Management, while at the same time having a fantastic time just being alive. As a native of Colorado, I plan to go back there and with the help of my college education, get a job related to the ski industry. I've always felt free and more alive when I am in the wide-open spaces of the Midwest, yet California has something I've needed and something I will miss - my friends. To all of them I send my love. Thank you for allowing my life to become a part of yours. I'm looking forward to life and I'm planning on having fun!

I was never involved in high school activities and if I had the years back again I would be. Even though I missed out on "the getting involved scene", my years at West were fulfilling and every bit was worthwhile. My years at West really gave me time to grow up and get ready for the big world. High School is the best experience of life. I will never forget all the friends who have crossed my path. To all my crazy, perverted and best friends whom I love dearly. Thank you for bringing life to me and sharing the experiences that we did. Thanks for always being there when I needed a shoulder to lean on. To Cindy the "Bestest" you put life into my life and I will always cherish the memories and things we shared together. Now it's the time to leave all the experiences behind, but the memories will be forever in our minds. Forever will we all be together.

My greatest nightmare is almost only.

My last year of required classes and teachers I don't lie (of which there are hardly any) The only good deeds that I have done these three years were not to get into fights, or being sent to Mr. Lee's office. My dreams, well, all I can dream of is going to college, no war, and hopefully there's peace.

But, before I leave this school, I leave Patty Taylor the art of speaking Samoan, Sherry Rogers my brain, Sue Smith my comb and to everyone who gets in trouble my LAW NOTES.

Oh! yes, my shot put to Miss Fulton Now, that you all share my nightmare, I wish you a peaceful and restful night.

2 years Varsity Track, 1 year JV Track, 1 year as a Stat for Track and Cross Country, 4 years Citizenship Award, 2 years Annual Ataff, 2 years CSF, L.A. Times A Student, Honor Roll, and Senior Class Secretary

Every year all the seniors thank all their friends for all they have done, and I'm not an exception. I do know that my feelings for my friends here are just a little bit different than everyone else's.

West was a new experience for me when I was a freshman, and now as a senior it is still new in many ways. Everyday I find out somthing new about me or my friends, and in my classes I am always finding out new things to learn. I've enjoyed most of my classes at West, but where would I have been without my friends?

I would have been lost without the support of all my friends, without them I would have been a lot less of a person. All my pals from Annual Staff, Jane, Jeff, Ginny, Ann, Mr. D., and all the rest. I would have never found such good friends anywhere else but here. I'll love them all forever.

Mike Wixom, I hope you'll remember all the good times we had in 7th and 8th grade with fondness. I do. I'll always think of you whenever anyone uses that nickname you gave me, "Big O". Don't ever forget that you're the one who started it all.

To Paul Mansour, thank you for calling me your idol, why you think I look like Lindsey Wagner I'll never know. I hope you are successful and marry a movie star.

Ann Costanza, who always tried to include me, even when I didn't fit in, where would I have been without you? I hope we always stay close, even if it's just through letters. You've listened to all my problems with guys, schoolwork, teachers, (you know who I mean, I think), and everything else I could tell you. How could you stand it? I love you for being the person that you are and I will never, ever, forget you, not in a million years. You've made an impression on me that I will always cherish in my heart.

Last and definetly not least, is my best friend, Jenny Park. There aren't really enough words to describe what I feel for you. It makes me feel worse than you could know to leave you behind at West. We've been through a lot together and learned so much about each other. The thought of going off to college and not being close to you makes tears come tc my eyes already. Just don't forget me is all I ask. I know you'll survive alright, and I hope you make the most of your senior year. I've wasted enough words trying to say what is impossible to say.

To everyone still at West: enjoy yourself in school while, you can, the time flies by faster than you can imagine. A good thought to remember is:
If you love something, set it free,
If it comes back, it is yours,
If it doesn't, it never was.

TRACI OZZIMO
Girls Junior Varsity Basketball, 1 year, Varsity 3 years, Girls Junior Varsity Softball, 1 year, Girls Varsity Tennis, 1 year, Annual Staff, 2 years on Arrowheads Staff, Sophomore Class Treasurer, (HHS).

My two short years here at West High were different. It was a difficult transition but I met a few special friends here that helped pull me out. They were understanding in my moments of depression and helpful in times of confusion. Thanks to my old and supportive friends that didn't forget me, and still made me a part of their everyday activities.

Have fun, little brother Paul, in keeping up the Ozzimo name. I wish I could stick around to watch you grow but you know that I'll be away trying to get an education. My new dreams are far and wide but there are people close by to help me carry them through.

CINDY PACINA
To all my friends, thanks for the four great years. I have many special thanks to a lot of people but most of all to Miss Underhill. Thank-you for the understanding, and for teaching me not only in ability to learn accounting but also in how to understand life.

To Coach Lomas and Coach Pete, you both are the most terrific teachers and people I know. Thanks for all the good times and laughs in the last four years.

JANE PERNU
High school has fulfilled a list of dreams. It has given me a sense of accomplishment through things such as Annual Staff, the Majorette team, and a trip to Switzerland.
I have found that by fulfilling dreams such as these and one very special "dream" there are twice as many dreams added to my list-
While in there days of quiet desperation
As I wander through the world in which I live
I search everywhere for some new inspiration
But it's more than cold reality can give
If I need a cause for celebration or a comfort I can use to ease
my mind
I rely on my imagination and I dream of an imaginary time
I know everybody has a dream
Everybody has a dream
Billy Joel

To gigikiki and all my buddies! Thanks for the great times and may they continue-Please take care of yourselves.
Much Love-Jane
P.S. We made it!

DON PETERSON
I never thought it would be hard to leave school, West in particular. The security of West is easy to grow accustomed to. I has for me.

A University or college can be a mere extension of high school or it can, in itself be a learning experience. I have chosen to cut myself free from the security of West and strive for the learning experience of the "cold, cruel world." I don't see how a person can grow remaining stagnant in a community that can protect you for an eternity to come.

So I leave West having only the regrets of not having experienced everything as least once and regreting that I only had so much time to experience these things.

Led Zeppelin, House of Reps, silent screams,

like water flows
in a stream of life though moves swiftly
unlike the water is not as smooth
as time appears to be.

GINNY PFAFF

How weird to think I'm writing my farewell letter. It's already been four years, but if I could do it again it might be tempting. There's so much I missed but the activities that I did participate in will remain with me forever.

I must admit your senior year is the best. Donna, a word of advice, take all you can for the years to go by too fast. Live, love and laugh while you can.

To those two crazy editors, Ann and Jane, you are both one of a kind. Ann, all I can say is—get real. Jane I wish you and Shane much happiness. Thanks for putting up with me. I know it must have been difficult. (The annual was great). Jeff- My special someone. I wish you everything you could possibly want. Thanks for the wonderful times we had. Always wear a smile and be happy!

All I can say about me is . . . I'm going to college to be someone. I'm never going to be just another blade of grass.

TERESA PICCIRILLO

I always wanted to go to West to be a WARRIOR and do my best. My years at West have come and gone, I shall cherish every one. Good-by West, you are number 1.

Good-by to all my friends, I wish you all the best of life. And I send thanks and love to my family for all your patience, understanding and love.

I never really did like coming to school, but I don't know what I would have done with myself it I hadn't come. School has it's good points and it has its bad points. Some of the best times of my life I have had here. I have made a lot of wonderful friends here and I'm almost sorry that high school is over for me. Next year I won't be seeing any of my friends anymore because I will be going to college in Vermont. But I just want to say to all of my friends who are reading this, "may all of your future hopes and dreams come true for you." I also want to say congratulations to one of my best friends Linda Litzinger on being our homecoming queen. It couldn't have happened to a nicer person. Good luck to you and Matt, Linda. I know that everything will work out for you guys. To my brother Chuck, keep up the good work and try and stay out of trouble. Lupe, it's been really fun having you as a sister for 3 years (even though we did have our little fights) and I'm sorry that you had to move out (I do miss you. Do you believe it?) But I'm really happy for you that you're living with your family now. Colleen, I hope that you and Brian have a happy future together and you better keep in touch.

To all of the rest of my friends, I hope that you all are happy and you all get what you want out of life in the coming future.
Love you all, Julie

I hope all of you young Warriors and Warriorettes do as many crazy and dumb things as I have That's what life's all about. Isn't it? I'm going to miss all you people and West High. Beginning and Advanced Girl's Glee, Beginning and Advanced Modern Dance.

I am so glad I was able to have the opportunity to choreograph a dance as a sophomore in Advanced Modern Dance. It was then, through this great challenge, that I began to blossom and open up, even though there were tears brought home with me at times. I realized that TRIUMPH is just a little "umph" added to "try."

Thanks to all my friends, especially Jennifer Nelson, who moved away, and Joyce Lenart for making my four years at West super. And my extra thanks to David for making me feel so special, and for caring so much.

There are long roads ahead of me but . . .
Life itself can't give me joy
Unless I really will it.
Life just gives me time and space
It's up to me to fill it.

MARTIN ROBINSON

This was my first and last year at West High. While I was here at West I had Barbershop Chorus, an experience I will never forget. I would like to thank Mr. Fenn for challenging me to do more than I thought I could and for providing the support I need to succeed.

God grant us all the serenity to except the things we cannot change.
The courage to change the things we can.
And the wisdom to know the difference.
Thankyou West High

VERONICA (BONNIE) SANCHEZ

For my friends
Just to be tender, just to be true
Just to be glad the whole day through,
Just to be merciful, just to be mild,
Just to be trustful as a child,
Just to be gentle and kind and sweet,
Just to be helpful with willing feet,
Just to be cheery when things go wrong.
Just to drive sadness away with a song,
Whether the hour is dark or bright,
Just to be loyal to God and right,
Just to believe that God knows best,
Just in his promises ever to rest -
Just to let love be our daily key,
That is God's Will for you and me.

As I was living it, time at West seemed to never want to end. Looking back, I'm still wondering how it slipped past me.

These last four years have held much pain. I hope I am a stronger and better person for going through them. West has also shown me many crazy, happy, and memorable experiences. I hope I can always cherish them.

To my family, whose been indefinately patient, loving, and understanding. Thank you for never ending faith. Simply, thank you. I love you.

To Karen and Micheal, you both are very special, strong and you're both winners. I love you both.

As official member of the family and HERD, I would like to tell my friends that you've made my years more bearable. I cannot even count the good times. Linda and Arline, we made it. Ann, Heidi, Liz, and Pam, I couldn't have survived with-out your constant shoulder for me to cry on.

To Patty and the rest of my friends, I'm leaving to serve the rest of their time here. Stay real, and all my love.

Choir, thanks for letting me be myself. We always were the best.

KATHY YANGSON
In a valley far away
Laughter rings all the day
Grassy fields and daffodils
Line the valley's paths and hills.
Children laugh and play and sing
Never a care about a thing
Grown-ups live and laugh and love
Dreams fulfilled, blue skies above
There is no worry, hate or fear
Pain and darkness never near.
One can wish this were only true
Sit down and cry, I'll cry with you
Yet we must go on to take another step
Set aside the misery, the sorrow we've wept
Face the music, face reality
This can never happen, it never will be.
All one can do is really try
To understand a world of deceit and lie
So when times are bad, when things take a turn
Don't regret an experience giving guidance to learn.
Despite the sadness, the tears we find
There will be happiness, goodness and kind
Waiting in a world of concrete walls
Destruction, illusion and savage brawls
Abused and forgotton on a dusty shelf
You'll find the beauty of life itself
So maybe tomorrow, maybe someday
In a valley far away
May all of you find your valley someday.

A memory is the afterglow of good times past.

Total fulfillment can be gained from some of life's simplest pleasures. Nothing can compare to being a part of a group, talking to a special friend or even just having time to be alone. There was complete satisfaction when I performed at a half-time show, developed a print and especially when I partied. Nvertheless, nothing can beat the value I placed on friendship. The friendship I held with so many special people helped me through the growing pains of life. They helped to form all of those "unforgettable memories" which became a part of me. These memories which I hold so close can never be taken away, they're mine forever.

Time is too precious for us to waste, so live through each day to the fullest extent. I may never be the same tomorrow.

Cherish Yesterday,
Dream Tomorrow,
Live Today.

One virtue each person should posses, is the ability to be unique. Never be afraid to be different. Be proud of your accomplishments and of who you are.

rahs rouse west's spirit

The Pep Squad met the challenge of firing-up West's teams and Student Body in a fun and creative way. Along with wearing their Friday outfits and leading pep rallies, they offered an amount of enthusiasm and support for the teams beyond what was expected. Every Friday during football season, Pep Squad decorated Coaches Peterson and Scully's doors as well as Quad 4 with signs and art work to express that week's chosen theme. A few examples: before the North game, Pep Squad hung a paper mach'e Saxon from Quad 4; later in the season Rolling Hills football player's graves were placed on the lawn in hopes to "kill" them that night; at the rally before the PV game, cheerleaders performed their version of the game with West emerging victorious. Their extra work encouraged attendance at the games, and promoted school spirit.

Pep Squad's job didn't end with football season. Basketball games and competitions kept them busy the rest of the year. At presstime the Squads hadn't competed in any competitions yet; however, they planned to attend Arroyo and West Spirit. If the USA Summer Camp was any indication of their ability, they should do exceptionally well. At camp they took home ribbons and awards in every category and won the Spirit Stick in competition against the other schools present. Pep Squad's sponsors Garrie Holcomb and Connie Ferrin were pleased with the girls' hard work. President Becky Fernandez contributed to the success of the group.

inconvience it's worth it

Each member of the Warriorettes' Drill Team could share a story of the long hours, many inconviences, and the feeling of satisfaction that came from accomplishing their goals.

A typical West High Drill Team member's day starts at about 6:00 a.m. and on some days doesn't end until at least 10:00 p.m. Morning practices begin at 7:30 a.m. with some of the girls half asleep and still in curlers. After practice there is always a mad rush for hair dryers and curling irons while the girls struggle to get dressed in the 10 minutes of time before first period.

After four or five periods of regular classwork the girls still have another practice session. As soon as 5th period is over the Warriorettes rush to the locker room and change their clothes for yet another hour of practice. If those two practices weren't enough, there was also a mandatory Monday Night practice session from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. every week!

The girls were really dedicated to the organization, and proved it by practicing all the time. There were four who were especially dedicated—Captain Elizabeth Heck, Co-Captains Angela Volk, Cindy Yeley, and Aimee Yoshida. They spent many hours preparing for the task of making the Warriorettes the BEST!

Ms. Marilyn Commeau did a super job of keeping 55 girls organized and cheerful. With her support the girls had a very successful year.

The girls demonstrated their skills at parades and halftime shows. Many of their presentations took place on Saturdays which meant long bus rides and the inconviences of having to change and get ready on the bus.

This year's team competed in the two most prestigious Halftime Competitions at West Covina and Los Altos. They also went to the Chaffey Tournament of Champions and to parades in Chino and Arcadia. Many of the girls replied that the competitions were scary, but a lot of fun.

As Pam Hanson sees it, "Drill Team is a good example of hard work paying off in fun!"

"the song remains the same"

Unrestrained excitement replaced nervous anxiety last June as twenty-six exceptionally talented vocalists learned they would be in the '79-'80 Aristocracy. Of the four Choral groups directed by Donnelly Fenn, Aristocracy is the most advanced, and performs the most frequently. This year they sang at Marineland, Knotts Berry Farm and Ichabod Crane's, presented a concert for the school in April, and went to San Jose to compete in the National Music Festival. Along with Choir, Aristocracy attended the Torrance All School Music Show held at El Camino where they had the opportunity to sing as well as to listen to others.

The four groups - Choir, Aristocracy, Treble Ensemble and Barbershop Chorus - all sang in "The Sounds of the Season", a yuletide concert. A second Christmas related activity was Choirs'; they appeared in Disneyland's Candlelight Processional, in which lyrics retold the Christmas story.

Second semester, Chori members' originality and creativity was put to use as they performed their version of "Name that Tune". Choir members were the contestants, announcer, and the "band". Among the many songs Choir sung at the Spring Concert was "Magnificat", a classical work by Pachabel. This required exceptional voacl talent. In addition, Choir held weekly in - class talent shows, organized by President Rosemary Swade and Vice - President Lisa Sikie. Finally, following tradition, Choir sang at Graduation.

harmony glistens as west listens

The words Barbershop Chorus conjure up an image of men in red and white striped suits, top hats, and canes singing the songs of the "good old days" in four - part harmony. Although this style of music was enjoyed by class members, both Mr. Fenn and his twenty, first - period students tended to accept a broader definition of "Barbershop Chorus" - one which included both rock and folk music.

Barbershop Chorus prepared boys for Choir and Aristocracy in much the same way that Treble Ensemble prepared the girls. Both groups performed in "The Sounds of the Season", a yuletide concert held in Warrior Pavilion. Donnelly Fenn, director, hoped "this concert was able to capture the spirit of good will and brotherhood that's such an important part of this season." He commented that "each year this traditional concert becomes increasingly meaningful as more and more alumni return to re-capture the feeling from their past Christmas concerts." Along with this show, the groups performed at the Spring Concert and sang at various lunchtime performances. Treble Ensemble also sang at Baccalaureate.

a new kind of entertainment

"The Entertainment Unit"? This new name was just one of the many changes that took place this year concerning the tall flags, majorettes, band and drill team. Another exciting variation was their planned participation in more half-time competitions. The team performed in three major tournaments-at West Covina on October 20, Los Altos on November 10, and the Chaffee Tournament of Champions on December 1. Absolutely no time was spared, as the auxiliary units participated in Friday night half-time shows and other activities. These included the Hollywood Lane Christmas Parade and the Maytime Band Review, which involved sightseeing and a wild and crazy over-night stay in San Diego.

More accentuation on drills was one of the main goals of the majorette team this year. The four girls achieved this by working with professional Coach Jackie Thorp once a week, where they perfected their drill skills. However, the team was on its own for creating and practicing routines, which gave them a sense of self discipline. Keeping this in mind, one saw that responsibility, effort, and enthusiasm went into their routines and tournaments. Captain Jane Pernu expressed that "with hard work and dedication we can do very well in tournaments and parades."

Often seen performing with the band was the tall flag team, led by Captain Laurel Abbey and Co-Captains Kris Sandstrom and Kelly Boedeker. In addition to activities already mentioned, the team of 24 attended separate flag and spirit days during the second semester. With the help of Coach Buddy Gilbert, who worked with the team daily, it was not hard to recognize the effort and dedication the team had put into both practice and competitions. Commenting on her squad's performance, Laurel Abbey said, "The team had done exceptionally well for the large number of new members." To help defray costs, fundraisers for the tall flag team were planned, such as bake sales and car washes.

According to Band Director Jim Banim, "These are some of the best teams ever at West".

band changes direction

Fourteen exciting yet very exhausting days in Switzerland left band members looking forward to a few quiet summer days of doing nothing but sleeping in late. Although the group felt disappointed at the prospect of having four—8 hour days of practice before school started, their time and energy were put to good use. All members learned the drum and bugle corps style of marching, and percussionists were given specialized training from a professional drum coach. The band started off the school year with a point of skill and accuracy which usually takes until mid-October to reach.

The corp style of marching, which the new director Jim Banim explained as "painting pictures on the field with lines and movements", was a major change from the traditional marching style. Instead of marching in straight lines, more interesting curved and V-shaped formations were used.

The band's movements also brought out dynamic contrasts in the songs. Their goals were to combine what was seen with what was heard, and to hold the audiences' interest throughout the performance. As the result of carefully planned choreography between band, drill team, and auxiliary units, the groups succeeded in presenting a continuously flowing, entertaining half-time production.

The corp style was excellent preparation for the band's participation in three of the major half-time competitions in Southern California: at West Covina, Los Altos, and the Chaffe Tournament of Champions. The band also appeared at a review in San Diego, was televised in the Hollywood Lane Christmas Parade, and performed at Disneyland. The band's traditional style of marching proved useful at the Chino, Arcadia, and All Western Band Reviews.

A strong sense of dedication in all band members was necessary for the group's success, and their ability to adjust to the many changes in organization. Major contributions were made by Drum Major Tim Ducar and Band President Bob Faulkner. Banim was pleased with the group and commented their "...pride to do good is one of the strongest senses of pride I've ever seen."

council works to please everyone

The Student Council agenda for the '79-'80 school year was comprised of a wide variety of activities. Led by ASB President Kevin Lenahan, Council helped solve many on-campus problems, ranging from monetary difficulties (Modern Dance needed a $2000 loan to finance their new floor) to common complaints against closed vending machines. In addition, Council increased student awareness before elections by holding an Open Forum, where candidates answered questions and debated. Communication with the Board of Education was increased when Council formed a committee which expressed students' views on issues to the Board.

The Student Body presented several constructive ideas to their representatives, which led to West's first winter semi-formal dance, and the chartering of five new clubs. Along with sponsoring the winter semi-formal, Student Council sponsored Homecoming and the Sadie Hawkins Week lunchtime activities, April 7-11.

The four classes worked separately to raise funds. Seniors sold shirts with the 1980 graduates' names on them; juniors sold roses, mugs, and sponsored the prom at the L.A. Hilton; sophomores sold posters, and freshmen held a bake sale.

dance, drama: provides self - expression

What is a "Ronnie" Award? A "Ronnie" Award is similar to a Tony Award, named after Mr. Ronald Scarlata, sponsor, of the Drama Club and director of the Drama Department. Students received these Awards at the Annual Drama Banquet given by the Club.

The Club is composed of students who are dedicated to acting, and want to have fun. They were involved with this year's play productions: The Bad Seed and the spring musical Oklahoma. They also sold tickets to the play Evita, and went to Universal Studios to take the tour and to have a good time. In December, some of the members went to New York where they saw a few Broadway plays and spent New Year's Eve at Time's Square.

Club members also had the opportunity to purchase club T-shirts. A contest was held to determine their design. Amy Hughes' design, a black T-shirt with a clap board that says West

High Drama Department, emerged the winner. This shirt was worn by members on Mondays. Those who were involved in the Thespian Troupe—an international group of advanced high school actors, purchased sweatshirts to gain even more recognition.

Another group which spent long hours practicing dramatic interpretations and styles of movement is the Modern Dance Company. Dancers learned self-expression, perfection, and achieved a great amount of exercise in this organization. Each dancer auditioned at the beginning of the semester to determine her level of dance. Members also attended classes offered after school by members of professional dance troupes.

The Dance Company, a group consisting of eight to ten members, met every Tuesday and Thursday to practice routines. They worked hard towards perfection and performed in productions throughout the year.

culture comes to west

Picture - the Chinese Acrobats and Magicians of Taiwan performing amazing feats and beautiful cultural dances; a table filled with foreign favorites to taste; or, the "human" side of a geography lesson as Exchange Student Mario Solano compares the Costa Rican culture and people to the American's culture and people ... The Student Exchange Club's activities made its purpose (to learn about other's lifestyles) clear. The club encouraged students to take advantage of the AFS (American Field Service) and Sister City (Torrance to Kashiwa, Japan) programs, because in order to fully understand another culture one must live in a foreign land. Unju Paik and Mandy Robertson were club members who reached AFS' regional competition and, at presstime, hoped to be going abroad this summer. Likewise, the Exchange Club helped to make Mario Solano from Costa Rica and Lisa Gebler, a domestic exchange student from Ohio, feel comfortable at West. To raise funds, the group sold "West is Best" buttons and pizzas. Sponsored by Mrs. Fahey, and led by President Daina Fernandez, the Exchange Club had an active year.

The Social Studies Club's purpose was closely related to the Exchange Club's. "What we (cosponsors Bill Wooton and Brenda MacNamara) try to do is to expose the students to ... different environments in our culture." At presstime the club planned on visiting downtown Los Angeles, going to museums and spending a day at an amusement park. Social Studies club members sold snacks at many school productions; bake sales were a common group fundraiser. As usual, the club's year-end trip rewarded those who worked hard throughout the year.

publications inform students

Smoke Signals, West's award winning school newspaper, had a successful year, despite some handicaps. Under the direction of Bob Call, the staff covered stories which ranged from attendance problems to the moon rocks that came her in December.

The limitations the staff had to deal with this year included the large number of new members and the change in layout. Nights before the paper came out, one could catch the staff in the graphic art's room desperately working to smooth out minor details.

Although few students realize it, the paper costs nearly $800 for each issue of 2800 copies. Some of the money comes from advertisements and their annual talent show; the rest comes from the A.S.B. and a Smoke Signals' sponsored dance.

Arrowheads, the annual literary magazine, consists of both prose and poetry, as well as short editorials, all of which were written by West High students. Advisor Morgan McSweeney, and editor Lydia Yee, guided the staff through another productive year. Hopefully, they will follow up the success of last year's magazine, which received a first place award in the Columbia Associated Press Competition.

forensics-aip express ideas

Two of the many interesting clubs this year, were the AIP and Forensics clubs. These clubs allowed their members to express themselves, to explore their inner feelings, and to share their problems with others.

The Forensics club had a new format this year, with the addition of Margaret Brandt, who is an Associate Dean and Professor of Nursing at El Camino College. Aunt Margaret as she is called by club members, was the new sponsor. She replaced veteran Sponsor, Uncle Bob- Robert Pickard who led the club for the previous 14 years.

The club spent many hours coaching, criticizing, and preparing members for tournaments. They participated in the Bay Forensics League and attended five tournaments this year. On November 17, seven eligible Fall Novice speakers participated in the Fall Novice Tourney and came home with the 2nd place sweepstakes trophy. The hardest competition was from such schools as Gardena, San Pedro, and Miraleste .

All 35 members experienced ways to express themselves. Member Nancy Alpern said, "It allows a person to express their feelings, but most important it helps you to discover who you really are."

Finishing it's second year as a club, the Alternate Instruction Program had another successful year. This organization followed the format of the AIP class, now in it's sixth year. As usual they had many off campus excursions to such places as Cal Poly and the J. Paul Getty Museum.

Members also have seminars drawing from their special interests and talents. The topics included the Los Angeles Fire Department, Goodyear Blimp, Nuclear Energy, Spaghetti, and Hula Hooping. Some students shared their experiences from trips to Japan and Europe. The seminars were given to help broaden the Students' knowledge of the world around them.

The teachers of API Mr. Kevin McManus, Mr. T.K. McMurray, Mr. Dave Spaid, and Aide Ann Smisek helped the students in a unique way. They were more than teachers. Students were able to talk to them as if they were close friends. Everyone who was in AIP will always remember their experiences of the times that were spent together. Terri St. Cyr commented, "AIP is an excellent program where you can sit, relax, talk to your friends, and learn."

scholars strive for success

What does CSF stand for? While asking many students around campus, several different replies surfaced. However, for those to whom it may come as a surprise, it stands for the California Scholarship Federation.

In order to gain membership into CSF, students must acquire ten points (A=3, B=1, C=0) each semester. Led by President Heidi Hoopes and sponsor Bill Wright, many social and fundraising activities were a part of CSF's calendar this year. Valengrams, valentines done in calligraphy, and a dance co-sponsored with NHS, provided funds for the group's excursion to Disneyland on February 23.

Outstanding character, scholarship, school service, and leadership were the qualities needed to gain membership into the National Honor Society (NHS), which admitted 33 new members in addition to the 20 returning ones. NHS sponsored The Speaker's Bureau where speakers from Cal State Dominguez spoke to faculty and studenrs on subjects ranging from oceanography to microbiology.

Under the direction of sponsor Francine Gelbwachs and President Kenny Chen, NHS, along with the Astronomy Club, gave a spectacular presentation of the moon rocks in December.

The major fundraiser this year for NHS was the selling of West High bumper stickers, which proved a success.

clubs serve campus and community

Ask ten different Asian Cultural Club members what their club's purpose was, and the same reply would be given: to learn about the Asian culture. Rephrase the question to ask why he or she attended club meetings and activities and the answers would vary; the club had a personal value to each of its members. Club sponsor Margaret Harrell's interest in the club was due to her upbringing in China. Members who recently moved to the United States from the Orient felt welcome at club meetings. Native American members were able to learn about their ancestor's cultural background through the club's special presentations. Two examples: members Grace Lee and Albert Yu taught Chinese calligraphy, and Robert Kasamatsu demonstrated martial arts techniques.

Activities, such as attending the Chinese New Year celebration in Chinatown, were often culturally related. However, social events were also held, including a Christmas party and the annual year-end talent show. Part of the funds raised through co-sponsoring a dance with the Social Studies Club and holding a bake sale were donated to the Cambodia Relief Fund. President Coleen Adachi provided excellent leadership for the group.

Dr. Plank's idea of starting a service club on campus was met with enthusiasm. History teacher Jim Arquilla became the Wigwam Club sponsor; Catherine Aaron was elected president. Their hope was that the club's work would be beneficial to both the school and the community. Although the club was still in its planning stage mid-year, their goals were impressive. Members believed that visiting the elderly in convalescent homes, and taking blind kids on a fishing trip were worthwhile community projects. Painting a mural and planting a tree were some of the ideas suggested for an on-campus project. These plans left Wigwam Club members anticipating an active second semester.

skill, strategy, and chance . . .

Ping Pong has increased in popularity in the last couple of years. It is a relatively easy sport to learn, but takes a lot of skill and technique to win. Table-tennis fans were given the opportunity to play during lunch. When playing space was not available, the Ping Pong club, sponsored by Mr. Dave Spaid, set up after school games at the player's homes.

"Checkmate" was a word often heard during lunch in the room of math teacher Robert Gray. Interested students were able to play chess everyday of the week. Led by President Gary Kovalsky, the Chess club held four tournaments in an effort to determine who the best chess player was. The club was designed to allow students to get together and share their interest in the game of chess.

A pair of dice, two players, thirty men or stones, a board, and a doubling cube: these items are all needed for one game—backgammon.

Still in its first year, the Backgammon club had many devoted members. They met once a week during lunch, playing many games, and just spending time with each other. The club sponsored three tournaments, which were open to all interested students. Mr. Robert Pickard sponsored the group of dedicated Backgammon Players.

enthusiasm spurs athletes

The Athletic Department is one of the biggest sanctions in this school. Without it, the spirit and morale of the school, for that matter, any school, would be minimal. There are two clubs at West which are a small, but very important part of our school's Athletic Dept.

The Athletic Club consists of all athletes that participate in one or more sports and have achieved a letter. Led by President Tony Bloomfield and sponsor Marge Fulton, the club held their annual Pancake Breakfast last fall. This group also sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance on April 11.

The success of our baseball teams was due in part to Bats and Babes, a group of girls who raise money and stat for the teams. President Geri Davisson and sponsors Mike Palazzo and Ron Parks put together many fund-raisers such as: popcorn jars, home products, and working in the concession stand to help with the purchasing of equipment. Besides raising money, the group provides a vast amount of enthusiasm and inspiration for our baseball players.

The math club provided individuals especially devoted to the field of mathematics with the insight of future math topics, including computer sciences, and gave each member an idea of what math is all about.

Advising the members of the math club through four tournaments were sponsor Richard Rogers and President Julia Wu. At each of these tournaments, members were tested on their math ability and then ranked. Students also met other avid math fans at these competitions.

Some of the special ideas the club planned this year were the formation of a mini math tournament for elementary students and a merging with the newly formed Computer Club.

Members of the Astronomy Club also used math skills to study the galaxy in more detail. This group of astronomers, directed by Robert Schultz and President Larry Tong, spent many days preparing for the "Moon Rock" display. They worked with CSF and NHS, and spent many hours doing research for the coming of the "moonies." The presentation was very successful.

Other activities included a trip to the Griffith Park Observatory and a tour of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena.

great relations with the outdoors

After traveling 18 hours on a freezing bus, members of the ski club anticipated skiing down the snow covered mountains of Utah. The 1980 Ski Conference was the biggest event for the skiers. Sixty beginning to advanced members spent four days skiing the slopes of Parkwest and Snowbird, Utah. They were also given one day of lessons to improve their style and technique. Everyone who participated in this trip remembered the long, endless bus ride; the tapes of Supertramp, the Knack, and the Eagles played over and over; and skiing down those long runs.

Supervised by Rona Naramore, the ski club was kept informed of available ski trips throughout the season. Some of the trips that were offered were weekend trips to Mammoth, and night trips to Big Bear. The skiers who could afford it went on the Easter trip to Utah.

Another group that depended on the outdoors for recreation was the fishing club. Members went to local lakes and beaches to test their luck.

The club held raffles and fundraisers to earn money for their many outings. They went to Lake Castaic, Lake Anaheim, and took two weekend trips to Catalina. They held fishing derbies and awarded prizes for the biggest catch.

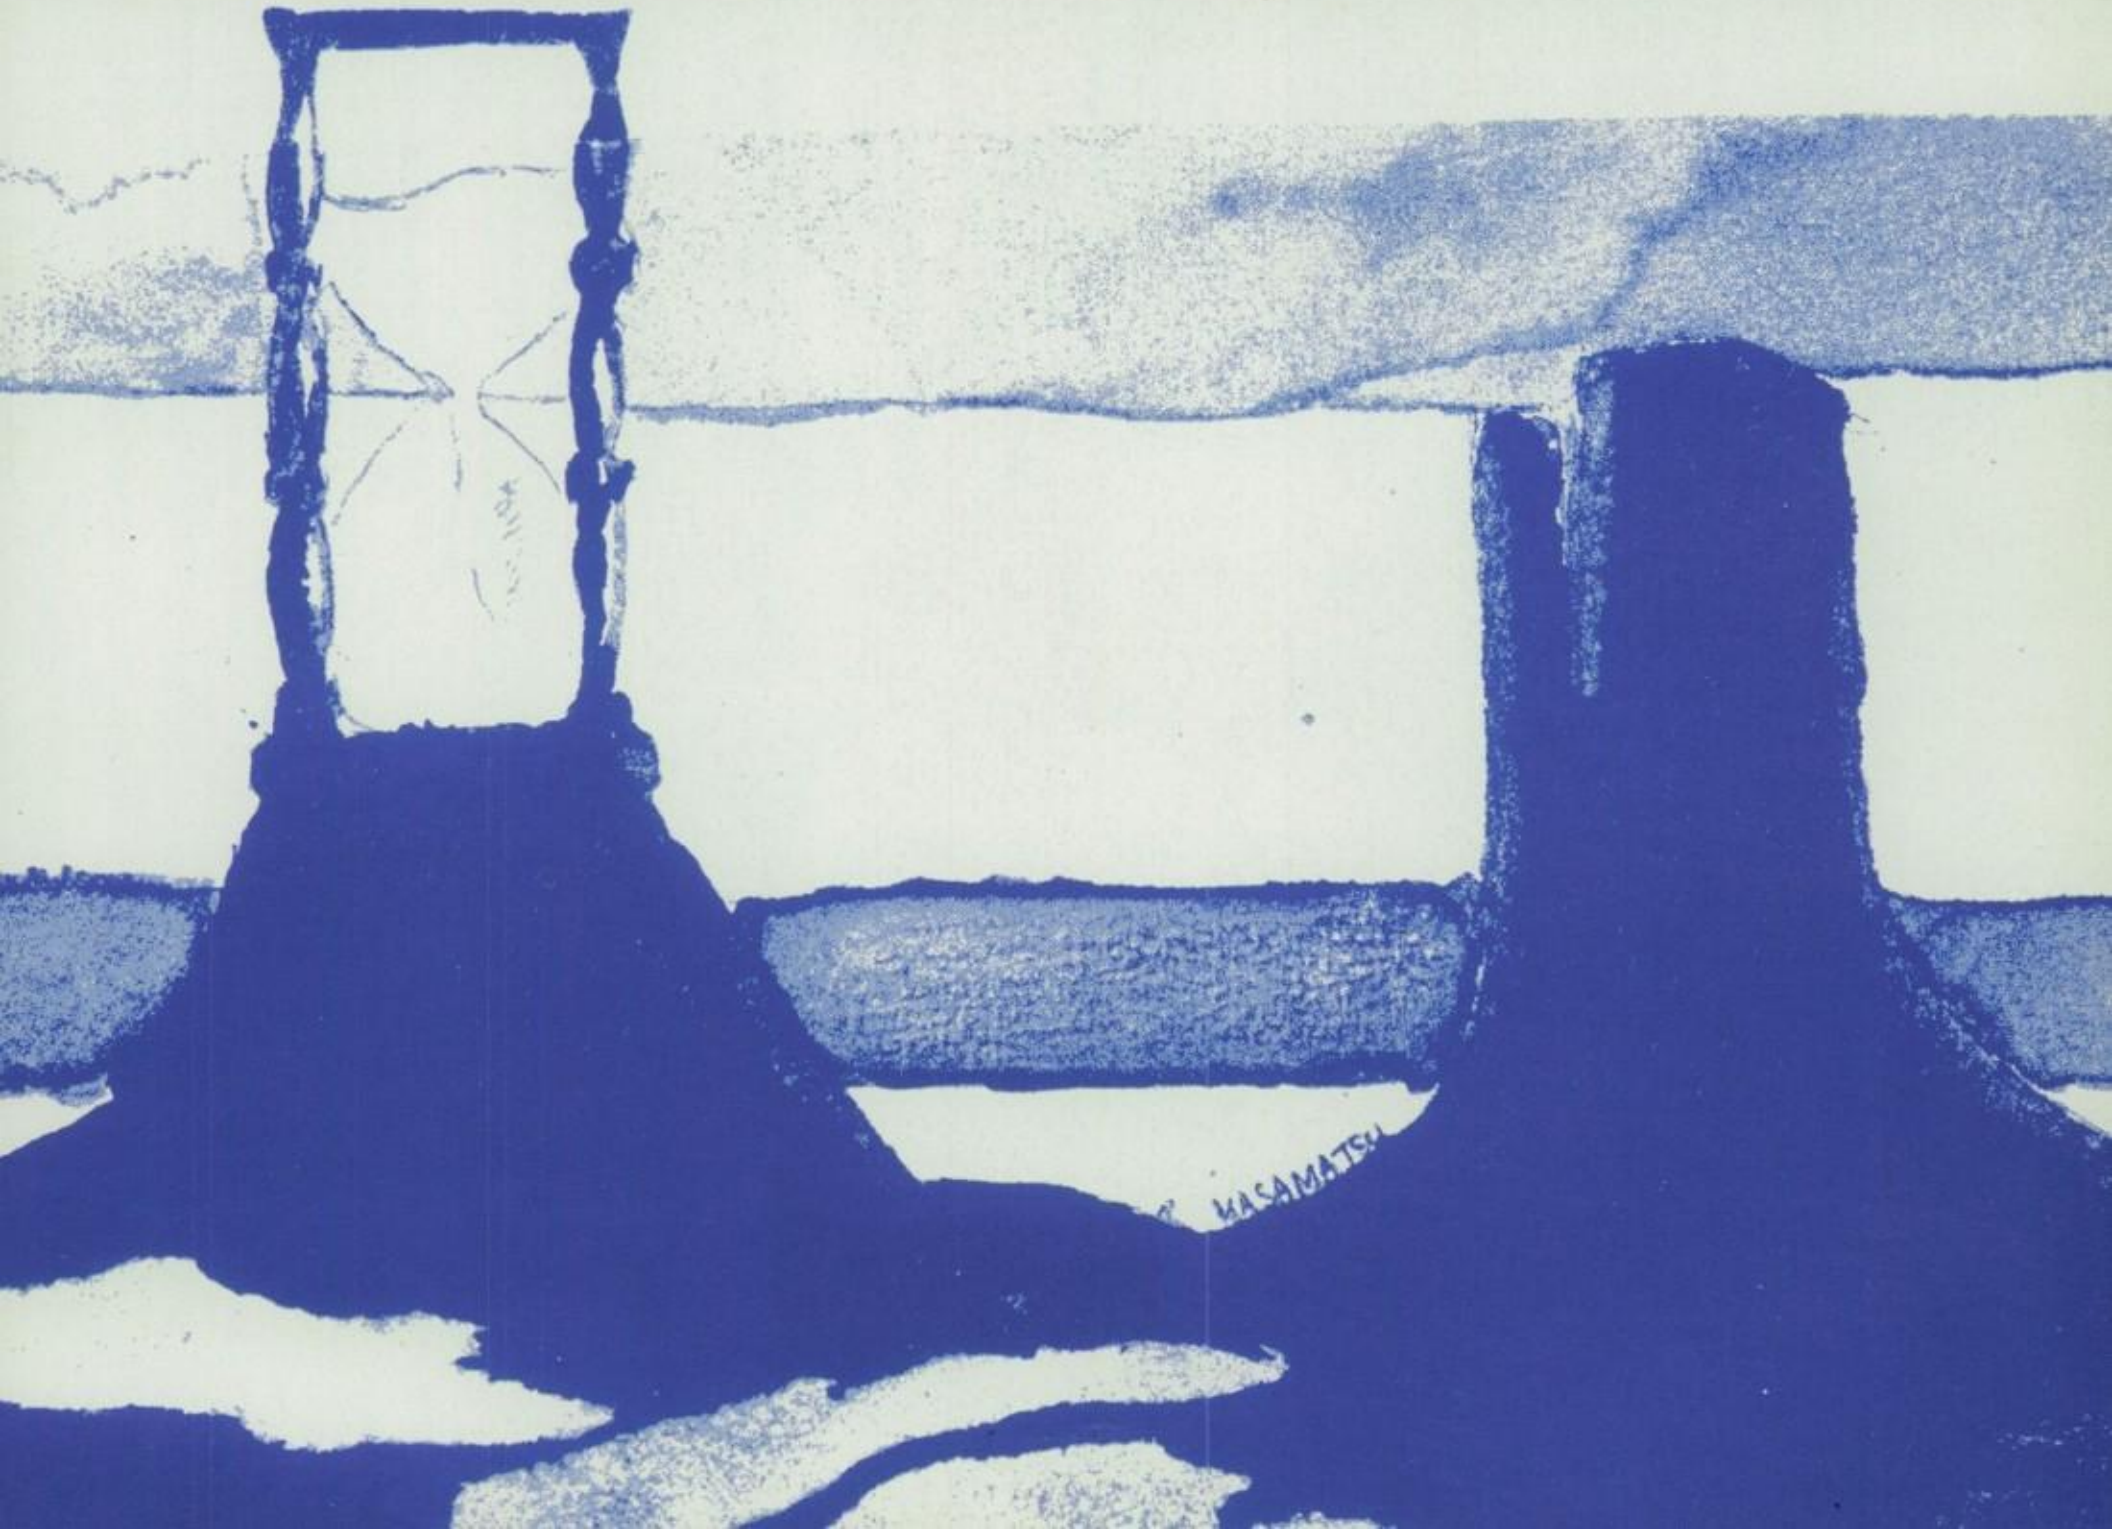
ACADEMICS



leaders move us into

Recorded attractively in words and pictures on the pages of the Chieftain are the stories of life on the campus at West. As can be readily observed, life on the campus of a large, effective high school such as West encompasses a great variety of activities; and whether a given activity is in the area of academics, athletics, fine arts, clubs, or leadership, each one is an integral part of the many and varied opportunities necessary to a balanced, comprehensive program. We are fortunate at West to be able to provide programs of quality academically as well as in so many co-curricular areas and in having a student body which values each of these experiences and participates in them in large numbers. At a time when apathy is viewed as a growing problem on high school campuses throughout the country, our challenge at West is to maintain and enhance the attitudes of pride and involvement which have made our school special. Congratulations are in order to the staff of the Chieftain for their success in capturing the feeling known to each of us as "Warrior Pride."

FACULTY—keeping up with the times and rolling into the 80s

english electives

. . .Parsnips and marigolds in orange juice, pig's petitoes, or Banbury cakes. Sound like an English class? Yes, thanks to the English elective program. One of these popular classes was Shakespeare. This course emphasized the enjoyment of the plays and charcters, by acquainting students with the times through the plays. The students were involved in the customs, music, food, and art in their study. They took part in acting, singing, and eating. Everyone got involved. Mrs. Fahey, who taught Shakespeare, ocassionally bought tickets to see plays.

There were many interesting English classes. The backbone of the English Department was its elective program. Out of other Torrance schools, West's commitment to the English elective program ranked highest. Mrs. Norma Wilson, head of the department, felt "West has more English electives than other schools because we are strong individuals with special interests."

Classes like Thanatolgy, Humor/Fantasy, and Phsychology in Literature were but a few of courses that made school more enjoyable and memorable. Mrs. Fahey, when first interviewed for a job here, found West High as "The most creative in the district. There are opportunities here that just aren't possible at other schools."

history, language

Ethnic foods, intellectual games, traditional musical songs, and exciting trips were some of the activities of the Foreign language classes this year.

The French class went to une Flime de Francais (a French movie) and had une petit deJeuner (French breakfast), while some of the Spanish classes went to Olivera Street and a Mexican Fiesta. They also had Taco day where the students cooked and ate tacos in class. Mrs. Buck's Latin class took a trip to the John Paul Getty Museum to see the ancient Roman works of art. In class students enjoyed playing conjugation, and declention games and singing songs.

Through the effort and the cooperation of both the students and the teachers, all the foreign language classes had a year which was both enjoyable and enriching.

Numerous activities enhanced the lives of Social Studies students this year.

"People in Time", a class dominated by freshmen, ventured to the J. Paul Getty Museum. There they observed many different forms of art. One freshman, Cindy Torres, commented, "People in Time" is a really interesting class and it's fun to learn about how we have developed over the years."

Field trips to a Russian Orthodox Church and a Jewish Synagogue were planned for students in "Czars and Commisars". They also experienced a taste of Russian literature and cuisine.

Simulation games are very popular in the Social Science department. Law students prepared and presented a case in mock trial, while the "Economics" classes played Market Place.

All in all the many activities in this department serve as a foundation for educational and career paths.

teachers drive students to better health

On the lighter side of the curriculum provided by our school were Physical education (P.E.), Health, and Driver's Education, mandatory classes required for graduation.

"Survival" students learned how sugar intake affects size, quality of life, and the divorce rate. They also spent a month keeping a daily chart of everything that entered their bodies. Health contracts were also drawn up for improvement of habits, rest, grooming and exercise.

A variety of sports were available to "P.E." students, and that added spice to this required class. Although tennis was the most sought after, students took everything from archery to volleyball.

"Driver's Education" a prerequisite to receiving a drivers license was as usual - full. Due to long waiting lists many students were not able to take this class. One half of the semester involved instruction in traffic safety. While the other quarter was spent with driving simulators, and behind the wheel training.

With these required courses, the students of West High acquired more practical skills.

a new member · cromemco

"It's been a long time coming, but we're glad it's finally here," said Mr. Reed, the head of the Math Department.

What is here? Cromemco, the new computer that was in operation by the second semester of 1980. It is a professional business machine that has many capabilities. Teachers used Cromemco for business operations, grades, tests, and inventory control.

Students used Cromemco to perform simulations of experiments that were too dangerous for labs. They also used the computer for spelling, drill, and practice. Cromemco also has word processing abilities. If students want to write their essay on the computer they can rearrange words, sentences, paragraphs, and punctuation; then have it printed up.

The best feature of Cromemco is its expandibility. In order to talk to the computer, its language, "basic" is used. However, it can also use "fourtran" and "cobal". In the future, a voice synthesizer could be made so that the computer could talk. Cromemco will be able to have seven people use it at once. Other departments can also program Cromemco.

In the future, departments hope that a course in computer programming will be available to students. Mr. Schultz believes, "Its uses are limited only by our imagination and our willingness to work."

the talents of Several things happened in the Fine Arts Deartment this year. For example, the acquisition of two new teachers: Jim Banim, Band director and Veda Casper, art teacher. Veda Casper took on the task of teaching Art I, while Jim Banim received the job of directing our school's award winning band. There were many things expected of Mr. Banim during the year, but he fulfilled them all.

The West High Choral Department, led by Mr. Fenn, acquired new robes this year. Two of the methods used to help raise funds for the robes were, a stationery sale and the making of a "Quilt for Choir". The panels on the quilt were hand embroidered by the students in the choral department. The quilt was raffled off at the annual Christmas Concert in December.

The Business Department, composed mostly of electives, was created to give students a head start in training and selecting their future careers. The many classes included Typing, Accounting, Shorthand, and Business Machines & Office Practice.

there's more to school

Two electives geared to prepare students for adult life are Industrial Arts and Home Economics. Over the past few years, a gradual change has taken place in both these areas. No longer is Industrial Arts just for boys, and Home Ec just for girls. Both girls and boys are now finding it useful to learn the skills taught by these subjects. Home Economics and Industrial Arts are some of the most popular classes at West, because students find them interesting as well as educational.

The purpose behind Special Education is to aid students with learning disabilities. Teachers cover a variety of subjects, ranging from English to Science. The average class has between nine and fifteen members, giving the teachers more time to devote to each student. This enables these students to have a better chance for success than they might have otherwise had.

less aides work harder

Both the cafeteria and the custodial services had a cut in their staffs this year. Due to diminishing school funds, the school cut back their workers. Since these areas have less members, they consequently worked harder. Students found that even though there had been a cut back, the workers still managed to have everything done right, and on time.

the annual that was supposed

We really don't know what to write in this book, but I think we are supposed to say something about the annual and the ideas behind it this year. We wanted to make the annual unique from all others. Well it's d.i.f-.f.e.r.e.n.t!!!

Lost film, pictures, copy, and staff members contributed to some difficulties and "late annual" rumors this year. We triumphed over those obstacles, and Here it is. Nobody said it would be easy, and if we had to do it all over again—we wouldn't. However, the finished product made it all worth while.

Ann Costanza and Jane Pernu
Editors-in-Chief

to be "late" . . .

CLOCKWISE FROM LEFT—The Crazy Editors—Jeff Goodwin, Aimee Yoshida, Bob Kasamatsu, Jane Pernu, Ginny Pfaff, Ann Costanza, Robyn Fischer, Merilee Norton, and Erin O'Shaughnessy, are ready to take a dive. Then Mr. D the Advisor—Is there or isn't there a mustache under that scarf? Our darkroom crew—Playmate of the Month, Aimee Yoshida poses on Photographers, Richard Auerbach, Dean Hanaoka, and Mark Roulette. Next, the newcomers to staff, working their way up (on the roof)—Rookies—Debbie Salomon, Henry Wilson, Veronica Fortun, Peggy Dyson, Gary Yamashiro, Tracy Ozzimo, Kavita Samtani, Mandy Robertson, Paul Mansour, Dawn Henry.

thanks to:

DUCKWORTH-We love you! Even though we know the feeling wasn't always mutual, in our hearts you'll always be our best friend on staff.
ANN AND JANE-How can we begin—Your talent, knowledge, and great beauty were an unforseen asset to staff. Nothing could have been accomplished without your wit, charm, and last minute headlines. This book is the best ever. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. (the editors)
BOB—Thanks for doing some of the most unwanted jobs and keeping organized. You were super!
Robyn—How can we thank your for opening and closing section copy, looking over our proofs, and perfecting the copy. We couldn't have done it without you.
AIMEE—Thanks for pulling things together when we needed it most. Sorry your job wasn't the easiest-But we think it will all be worthwhile. P.S. Have you had any discussions in the back room lately?
GINNY—To the better half of the annual staff "pair". Thanks for pulling together a great section and for always being our buddy.
JEFF—To the weaker half (hah hah) Thanks for being so reliable with your section as well as the darkroom. Hope you make a V.I.G. whoooooo.
ERIN—The headaches were all worth it, your section is great. Maybe we'll buy you a fake photog so you can practice yelling.
MERILEE—Thanks for trying your hardest. We know your pages were challenging—especially when you had no pictures.
RICHARD —Dear, Sweetheart, and anything else we called you when we needed pictures. The books yours as well as ours. We couldn't have done .....without you.
MANDY —You were such an asset to the Student Life section. We knew we could depend on you if a page had to get done. We enjoyed your positive attitude and wish you luck next year on annual.
PAUL—Our wild and bazaar rookie. Thanks for all your help. Keep hoping for your chance to stardom, you never know someday it might happen. P.S. Lindsay Wagner wants your phone number!
TRACY—For being there everyday and pulling through on all the assignments we gave you—and more. . .THANKS
GARY—Thanks for putting up with all the problems and last minute deadlines, you were there when we needed you.
HENRY—The lady-killer of annual staff (hah-hah). Thanks for doing a great job and for staying away from Ginny.
DEBBIE—Thanks for all your great copy! You worked really hard and should be proud of yourself. We're glad we got to know you PEGGY—You pulled through when things were tough, thanks a lot. Hope we can continue the friendship we gained on staff. Try to forget all the ice creams we ate, we will !!!
VERONICA—Sorry about your car! Your effort was super and we enjoyed working with you this year; keep in touch.
DAWN —We're glad you came to West this year. You did a great job, but besides that you've added to the craziness of staff. Good-luck next year!
KARA—Thanks for always getting your pages done as soon as possible. You'll be a real asset to the team next year.
KAVITA—You're a real sweetheart and a lot of fun. Thanks for being such a help this year.
MARK AND DEAN—Thanks sooo much for the last minute pictures. Even though you are just a dumb junior (Mark) you managed in doing a good job. Dean, we enjoyed your centerfolds in the darkroom. ha ha!
MICHELLE AND RICKY—To two off-the-wall people. Thanks a bunch for adding some excitement to staff.
JEFF AND STEVE—What more could we ask for in Photographers. Thanks for helping us out.
HEIDI—For the "It's gotta be done in two weeks cover." It turned out great, Thanks a bunch sweetheart.
TO JONE'S COUSIN—Thanks for the opening section pictures, we wouldn't have one withoiut you.
